Bosses to be quizzed by council over CCG

HEALTH chiefs will be grilled by councillors after concerns were raised that they are not doing enough to protect services.

A motion of no confidence in the Clinical Commissioning Group was originally put before Stafford Borough Council earlier this year.

Instead of backing the motion councillors decided to call on CCG chiefs to be quizzed on their performance. A special meeting of the council's health and wellbeing committee will be held next Tuesday.

It comes as regulators the Care Quality Commission carried out a three-day inspection at Stafford Hospital this week after bosses asked for help.

A listening event on Monday was attended by more than 100 people, who spoke with CQC members about their experiences of using the hospital. It faces a shortage of 85 full-time equivalent nurses and midwives.

It is hoped the CQC will visit the hospital, give assistance and carry out a full inspection to help ease pressure.

Around £220m is being spent on the restructure of the Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, including on new facilities in Wolverhampton, Walsall, Cannock, Stafford and Stoke.

Police find man injured

A MAN is in a critical condition after being found near Hammerwich Cricket Club.

Police were called at about 4.50am on Monday following concerns about man, in his 60s, after he had left a property in the village.

Officers found him with injuries and was taken to hospital, where he remains in a critical condition. He was yesterday (Wednesday) described as 'stable'.

Police say no-one else was involved in the incident and officers are not appealing for witnesses.

LEGAL THREAT ON SON'S DEATH

Big, gruff surprise in the woods

Cannock Chase rangers Lizzie Hartshorne and Rob Lamb get away from the Gruffalo at Birches Valley

IF you go down to the woods today you're sure of a big surprise. That is because a towering 7ft sculpture of the well-loved fictional monster the Gruffalo has been unveiled at Cannock Chase.

The structure has been placed deep in the woods at the Birches Valley Forest Centre to celebrate the 15th anniversary of the Gruffalo books.

Andy Coggins, recreation manager at Birches Valley, said: "There is no better way to celebrate The Gruffalo than within the deep dark woods and forests that he calls home. The Gruffalo is a national treasure and so are our forests and this partnership will really help to bring the story to life and celebrate the anniversary in true Gruffalo style."

Unveiled

The wooden sculpture is made out of three-ton pieces of timber, each carefully-selected from Forestry Commission sites.

Fifteen Gruffalo sculptures in total have been installed at outdoor sites across the country this month. In October, The Gruffalo's Child activity trails will be unveiled at Birches Valley and remain open until February 2015.

Characters from the stories will lead children through the trees.

The Gruffalo is a children's book by writer Julia Donaldson, illustrated by Axel Scheffler and has sold more than 10.5 million copies, has won several prizes for children's literature and has been developed into plays on both the West End and Broadway.

HEARTBROKEN parents are considering legal action over the death of their schoolboy son who died of meningitis after waiting hours to be given antibiotics.

Andrew and Emma Smith said their son Thomas had been 'let down' by hospital staff.

A coroner said there had been a 'gross failure of care' given to Thomas, who died on his 13th birthday while on a family holiday in Wales last May.

An inquest heard when the Kingsmead School pupil of Hednesford was admitted he had six tell-tale signs of meningitis but was initially given painkillers.

Four hours later he was given antibiotics at the Prince Charles Hospital in Merthyr Tydfil.

Mr and Mrs Smith said the hospital's paediatric team had not worked effectively to ensure treatment was commenced as early as possible.

Failure

The hospital has apologised saying it had taken action to ensure it never happened again.

Coroner Christopher Woolley said: "The failure to administer antibiotics does amount to a gross failure of care."

He said he was concerned about 'further deaths' at the hospital and ordered a report. But he said it was not a case of 'neglect' and even if Thomas had been given antibiotics he could have still died.

He gave recorded a natural causes verdict.

The inquest was told Thomas, a talented footballer, was seen by Dr

Tragic Thomas Smith

Kwong-Tou Yip and consultant paediatrician Dr Ezzat Afifi who both gave him paracetamol.

He eventually went into a coma and was taken to the intensive care unit at the University Hospital of Wales in Cardiff, but he never recovered.

Alison Williams, chief executive of Cwm Taf University Health Board, which runs the hospital, said: "This is an extremely sad case and we deeply regret there were failings in the care that Thomas received."

Lawyer Zak Golombeck said in a statement issued by Mr and Mrs Smith: "The coroner found there were numerous gross failures in the care afforded to Thomas."

He added his law firm was 'now advising the family with regard to legal action'.

Spruce-up planned at 'tired' market

CANNOCK Chase Council chiefs say improvements could be made to the town's 'tired' indoor market.

Bosses say they hope to find the cash spruce it up.

Council leader George Adamson said he would put the idea forward at a cabinet meeting later this month.

He said: "The indoor market looks a bit tired. I will be recommending to cabinet that we find some cash to spend on it."

"We need to spruce it up a bit. It's been a while since some money was spent on it by the looks of it."

"It would encourage more people to shop there."

The indoor market is open every Tuesday, Friday and Saturday and features stalls selling rugs, jewellery and food.

Meanwhile, a weekly outdoor street market launched in November for a trial period of six months is poised to become a permanent fixture.

The market was introduced to boost footfall in the town.

Council bosses say it has been a huge success and a result of positive feedback, it is likely members will decide to extend its run.

The decision on extending the weekly market's run will also be decided at the cabinet meeting.

Tailbacks in M6 collision

DRIVERS faced rush hour delays when a lorry and car crashed on the M6 in a stretch of roadworks.

The smash blocked one lane on the northbound carriageway between junction 11a for the M6 Toll and Junction 12 for Gailey from about 8am yesterday (Wednesday).

Tailbacks stretched back to junction 10a for the M54.

No-one was badly injured. The speed limit is currently reduced to 50mph while the carriageway is resurfaced.

Leisure provider's £50,000 boost

LEISURE provider WLCT has been awarded £50,000 of Sport England funding to enable more families to get active.

The funding is part of a three-year £2 million project called Make Your Move.

WLCT, which runs Chase and Rugeley leisure centres on behalf of Cannock Chase Council, will use the money to introduce the MyFamilyFitness programme, providing family-friendly participation opportunities through exercise classes, fitness and sports sessions, focusing on communities with the highest levels of inactivity and obesity.

Chief executive Stuart Murray said: "We are all about getting people active and the MyFamilyFitness programme will give a real boost to our work in the local communities."

Councillor Christine Mitchell, Cannock Chase Council culture and sport portfolio leader, said: "The Sport England funding is great news for the work being done in Cannock Chase District to encourage local people to take part in sport."

The Sport England National Lottery Funding is being distributed by Sporta, the representative body for leisure and cultural trusts in the UK.

Brian Leonard, Sporta's CEO, said: "The Make Your Move campaign is about increasing participation in sport at a local level. By funding projects designed by local trusts and created specifically for local people, the Make Your Move campaign can make a real difference to local people.

"This, in turn, offers true benefits to these trusts' local communities."

Thousands of visitors turned out in Alrewas to show their support for the Armed Forces community.

A host of events took place throughout the day, including a circus skills workshop, children's craft activities, a cadet drill display and a Royal Army Physical Training Corps gym display. The Trinity Dance Group also performed.

The presentation of the Ride to the Wall 2013 cheque was particularly well attended, with a record-breaking £82,750 donated. This brings the total funds raised by the annual event for the Arboretum to over £316,000.

Because of the rain, a planned flypast of World War I aircraft was unable to take place, but the RAF's Dakota flypast was an unexpected highlight of the day.

Managing director Sarah Montgomery said: "We are delighted that so many people came to the National Memorial Arboretum for this special day and to commemorate the contribution made by the Armed Forces community."

Drop in fly-tip convictions

THE number of convictions for fly-tipping in South Staffordshire has fallen by more than 50 per cent in recent years, sparking criticism from MP Gavin Williamson.

Figures from the Home Office revealed 22 people were convicted in 2009 to 2010, with just 10 in 2012 to 2013. Mr Williamson is campaigning for more to be done to tackle the scourge of fly-tipping in the district.

He has contacted Justice Minister Jeremy Wright, calling for stricter guidelines on offenders. New sentencing guidelines came into force on Tuesday.

Club needs boss

A CANNOCK junior football team is looking for a new manager. Anyone interested in running the well-established under-13s team, with the aim of developing, is asked to call 07816 351293. Coaching badges can be arranged and paid for by the club.

HOSPITALS in the West Midlands forked out £14 million on agency staff in a year because of a shortage of nurses and other workers to fill shifts.

Figures obtained by The Chronicle's sister paper The Express & Star reveal that the bill for agency workers for the five NHS Trusts covering the Black Country and Staffordshire doubled in 2013/2014.

Campaign promotes openness

HEALTH leaders in Staffordshire have backed a national campaign to reduce harm and save lives by encouraging openness and transparency across the NHS.

Staffordshire and Stoke on Trent Partnership NHS Trust is one of 12 such bodies offering staff the opportunity to talk openly about concerns and speak out safely about harm.

As Ambassador for Cultural Change, former A&E nurse Helene Donnelly, who raised concern about care at Stafford Hospital, supports staff to raise concerns.

Chief Executive Stuart Poyner said: "As an organisation, we are fully committed to supporting staff, patients and service users to raise concerns and know they will be fully listened to.

"All our staff are encouraged to speak out about areas of poor practice or behaviours and we recognise that some staff may find it easier to speak to a fellow colleague about issues, which is why I introduced the ambassador role."

An independent complaints panel has also been launched consisting of representatives drawn from partner and voluntary sector agencies.

It was £6.3m in 2012/13. Thousands of shifts are being filled by agency workers and the latest figures include a nurse who was paid more than £1,400 for a 12 hour shift on a bank holiday, working out to almost £120 per hour.

Bosses blame increasing patient numbers and staff sickness for the soaring spending which saw almost £6million shelled out by one trust alone.

The figures have prompted MPs and officials across the region to call for action to ensure enough money is being spent on permanent workers.

Waste

Labour's Shadow Health Secretary Andy Burnham blamed the government. The MP said: "David Cameron's short-sighted plans are bad for the NHS and bad for our economy."

"He is making experienced nurses redundant only to waste millions on agency staff across the West Midlands."

In Staffordshire, the Mid-Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust spent £2,711,750 in 2013/14, compared to £1.4 million in the previous 12 months.

A trust representative said they would not comment on the amount of money they had spent on agency staff.

Stafford Conservative MP Jeremy Lefroy said: "It is something we need to deal with. We need to train more nurses in this country."

Festival to aid crash pair

Deputy general manager Danielle Watkins, right, and team member Charlie Whitehouse

A PUB's music festival will raise money for two of its staff hurt in a car crash.

Ashley Jones and Nicola Price were involved in a collision between their silver Vauxhall Corsa and a Citroen Berlingo van near the Churchbridge island in Cannock at around 12.15am on May 29.

Both were taken to hospital in critical conditions. Friends say Mr Jones, 22, has been discharged with serious injuries while Miss Price remains in hospital. The pair work at The Wheatshaf, in Walsall Road, Great Wyrley, where the 'Party in the Car Park' will be held on July 19.

Four bands will perform from 2- 9pm before an acoustic act continues the music inside the bar. There will also be a raffle.

Deputy general manager Danielle Wilkins said: "We held this event last year and Ash and Nicola were involved in arranging it for this year.

"What has happened has shocked us and we thought we would use the event to raise some money to help them."

Holiday insurance warning from MP

CHASE MP Aidan Burley is warning his constituents about the dangers of travelling uninsured.

It comes after The Travel Association revealed 14 per cent of people in the Midlands travel abroad without any form of insurance.

Mr Burley is urging holidaymakers across Cannock Chase to be prepared for their travels abroad and ensure they are properly covered.

Recent figures revealed 11 per cent of people think a European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) acts as a full insurance policy but it only provides access to state medical care in the European Economic Area and does not cover other costs such as bringing the individual back to the UK.

And a further one in 10 people believe all of their treatment costs will be covered by the UK Government if they have an accident or fall ill while abroad.

The Conservative MP said: "Medical costs arising from uninsured accidents abroad can be very significant indeed."

"In addition to the worry over a sick or injured relative, it is often families who are presented with the bills and the added stress of covering these."

£50,000 eye test scanner

AN independent optician has invested £50,000 in cutting edge technology that could save customers' sight.

Chase Eye care has bought a 3D OCT (Optical Coherence Tomography) scanner which uses light waves to take a cross section of the back of the eye to check for conditions such as glaucoma, diabetes and macular degeneration.

Shakeel Puri, clinical director of the Cannock practice, in High Green, said customers could take advantage of the tests during a general eye test and receive results in minutes.

A section of the 5,000 fans enjoying the Jessie J concert

Modfather Paul Weller, aged 56, during his forest date last Saturday

Fans go Wild for Jessie J and Modfather on Chase

by Adam Thompson

SCANTILY-CLAD Jessie J played to more than 5,000 fans at Cannock Chase – and admitted the crowd was the best she'd performed before this year.

Meanwhile, the rain stayed away as the Modfather Paul Weller rounded off this year's forest concerts.

Straight-talking pop princess Jessie kicked off the annual Forestry Commission concerts, but briefly stopped her show halfway through after spotting a punch-up in the crowd and waiting for tensions to die down before resuming.

The sassy 26-year-old treated her fans to renditions of Price Tag and Who You Are. Jessie J, who quit as a judge on The Voice after two seasons last year, told the crowd they were the best she'd performed in front of this year but admitted she felt freezing.

She also revealed that the catsuit she was due to wear broke just minutes before she took to the stage. And she wrecked her microphone stand during an energetic performance of Nobody's Perfect.

Wellies and ponchos were the order of the day – even though the rain stayed away.

Parents and children alike danced and sang their hearts out to Jessie's catchy hits. Thousands took picnic blankets and camping chairs along while scores of others turned up in fancy dress.

Atmosphere

Father-of-two Andrew Pittard, aged 32, was there with his family including his wife Stacey, 31.

The Network Rail worker from Stafford said: "It was a great night. I thought she performed really well. There was a lovely atmosphere as well."

"I've seen three forest gigs at the Chase. I saw Paloma Faith last year but I think Jessie was better."

Sharon Wilson took her nine-year-old daughter Olivia along.

Mrs Wilson, aged 47, who will be starting work as a care facilitator at St Giles Hospice in Staffordshire in August, said: "It was a fantastic concert. I bought Olivia the tickets for her Christmas present. It was the first gig she's ever been to."

"She loved it and had a great time."

A full house, most of them 40-somethings

Jessie J on stage during her concert at Cannock Chase and many clad in parkas, also enjoyed the sounds of Weller on Saturday. His last appearance had been in torrential rain. But the skies cleared in time for his return.

And the 56-year-old got down to business right away, rattling through almost 25 years of solo material.

Only Start! was performed from Weller's early days with The Jam, despite two encores. He ended with a guitar-throttling The changingman and slow rock tune Mermaids.

Steve Whitehouse, 49 and his wife Liz, 48, from Tamworth were at the show and have been fans of Weller for more than 30 years.

"I've been a Weller fan as long as I can remember. The Jam first then when he went solo. His gigs are always fantastic," said Steve. His wife added: "I've seen Weller a few times but this is the first time I've been to see him in the open air. His shows are always so good."

Angel Parton, 50, from Quinton in Birmingham said: "We got our tickets about three weeks ago and we had to pay a bit more but it is worth it. I like his later stuff and his solo stuff I think is really mellow. I think he's one of a type - there's no-one else like him."

Approachable

Jerry Hillyard, 52, also from Quinton added: "I've liked Weller for 36 years."

"I really like his attitude and I like his music and he seems to be an approachable guy. I like his music from The Style Council and his early solo stuff."

Robert Burgess, 23, from Wolverhampton said: "That was my first experience

A Birches Valley concert-goer gets a closer look

Thumbs-up from Paul Weller fans at his Chase concert of an outdoor gig so there was a lot rolled into one. I didn't know a lot of the songs he played but of the songs he did play got the crowd going which was good."

Previous forest concerts have featured The Feeling, Sugababes, Simple Minds, Erasure, Status Quo, Jools Holland and Paloma Faith.

Andy Coggins, concert manager for the Birches Valley site hailed the two-day event.

He said: "We're absolutely thrilled with how the two days went. We have had more than 10,000 people come to Cannock Chase and it has passed off with no concerns and people have had a great time."

"There was a nice mellow atmosphere and the artists have said they really like the setting and the crowd."

"We are already in talks for acts next year."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

OVER the years, in order to make football safer, boots have become lighter and the old rock-hard leather ball has been outlawed. Is it time to consider rubber teeth?

THE term rUK ("rest of the United Kingdom") is already being used in Scotland to describe England and Wales if Scotland votes for independence in September's referendum. A similar abbreviation based on "former United Kingdom" has been rejected as inappropriate.

DAVID Blunkett says the News of the World hacking his voicemails brought him close to a breakdown. He talks bitterly of suspicion, betrayal and the souring of relationships. Reality check, please. When a high-profile Home Secretary has a torrid affair with another man's wife, how does he think it's going to end? If mobile phones had not been invented, hacking was unknown and Rupert Murdoch had never been born, Blunkett's own folly would still have brought him crashing down.

IN December last year I wrote this about the female puppets in the Wonga TV adverts: "The moment they appeared, I found myself reminded of those evil old bags who were rounded up in Germany after the war and exposed as concentration-camp guards." There is something unpleasant about the whole payday-loan industry. Now it is revealed that Wonga sent thousands of letters threatening legal action to customers in arrears - from fake legal firms. Because this happened before the Financial Conduct Authority took over the regulation of payday lenders, it is unable to fine Wonga. But what about natural justice and the criminal law? If a back-street loan shark threatened legal action by bogus law firms wouldn't he be charged with obtaining money by deception? What's the sauce for the shark is surely sauce for Wonga.

THE solution to England's football woes is staring us in the face. On the very day last week that England was knocked out of the World Cup by Liverpool, Ofsted published a report complaining that elite sport in this country is dominated by kids from private schools. No surprises there. Private schools tend to demand high standards of their pupils and what applies in the classroom also applies on the sports fields. The simple fact is that posh kids are bred to succeed. After half a century of decline it is time to accept that football has failed the working class, and vice-versa. It is time to gentrify the game. Ban football in all state schools. Rebuild the Football League around England's great public schools with teams such as Eton Wanderers, Harrow Rovers and Winchester Academicals. Boot out the Bash Street Kids and bring on Lord Snooty and his Pals. Bring the upper-crust dedication and expertise that gives us world-class riders, sailors and rugby players to bear on football. The age of the toff striker is at hand. Who knows, we might even get a better class of football hooligan.

POLICE under Pressure (BBC2) is supposed to show how cops in Sheffield are coping with the wicked Tory budget cuts. What it actually tells us is that money is not the problem. The real issue is a police force (sorry, service) which commands zero respect and has absolutely no authority on the streets. You could double the police budget tomorrow and the underclass kids, all fully aware of their human rights, would still ignore the curfew and run rings around the bobbies. When it comes to clearing the streets and keeping the peace, nothing works quite like the Saudi Arabian system of a few hundred fit young religious police armed with long canes. It's called the Commission for the Promotion of Virtue and the Prevention of Vice, and nobody messes with it.

Dan has designs on creating own label

A DESIGN student will represent the UK in the final of a worldwide competition after impressing judges with his mix of photography and paper weaving.

Dan Matthews, from Cannock, has been named national award winner in London by the Society of Dyers and Colourists (SDC) for his recent work with inventive use of colour.

The 23-year-old University of Huddersfield student won the national heat at the Houses of Parliament and will now represent the UK in the world final in China in November. He will compete against 11 other contestants and have the chance to win £1,000.

The contestants are only allowed to enter a small glimpse of their work in the form of four A2 boards.

"There is an unusual twist to Dan's work and his use of colour is more forward thinking than the trends that are out right now," said course leader

Joanne Harris. "He can forecast colour and I think that's something that isn't taught, it comes naturally to him."

"He sees colour first hand and it hasn't been sourced by something else, therefore his work is all original."

Dan's future plans include working and developing as a print designer and after a few years working in industry he would like to study for a masters. His ultimate aim is to create his own label.

Sun beats down on village fun runners

by Alex Ross

THE sun shone on the hundreds of fun runners who pounded a village's streets for an annual event.

Between 800 and 900 people completed the 2.5-mile route around Penkridge on Sunday morning.

The event, organised by Penkridge Round Table, also featured live music, entertainment, fair rides and a barbecue.

It raised money for local charities. Organiser Tim Rowlands said: "We had a fantastic fun run with hundreds of people taking part, there was a real sense of community as everyone pulled through."

"The weather was also great, everything has gone very well, we're delighted and want to thank everyone for coming down."

The run was open to all ages and abilities. There was also a prize for the best fancy dress of the day.

Paul Thacker, aged 46, of Francis Green Lane in Penkridge, won the race with a time of 13 minutes and 14 seconds. The runner from Wolverhampton and Bilston Athletics Club was given a trophy.

Delighted

It is the first time he has won it, having coming second for the past three times he has taken part.

He said: "I'm delighted, but it's not just about the race. It is a great, well organised event which is of benefit to the whole village."

Also in the run was Sam Brewer, who ran round with a hand puppet bird called Dodo. The 49-year-old, of Bridgewater Close, Penkridge was joined by wife Blyth, 45, and daughter Dulcie, 12.

He ran the race in about 25 minutes.

He said: "It is exceptionally good this year, we come every time. It's just a great social event where you can see everyone."

The run was marshalled by volunteers with medical support provided by St John's Ambulance Service.

More than 30 village groups and organisations ran stalls.

Pledge to invest in watch schemes

MORE money is to be ploughed into Neighbourhood Watch schemes across Staffordshire as part of an initiative by Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis.

He pledged extra investment from his budgets to reinvigorate and modernise Neighbourhood Watch, and get a wider range of people involved.

Mr Ellis has also announced an independent review of the scheme, which has more than 25,000 members across Staffordshire.

"Volunteers play a critical part in helping to make our communities safe and make a massive contribution to society," he said.

"The aim of the review is to see how we can get more people involved, how we can make Neighbourhood Watch an even bigger force to be reckoned with and how we can realise the power of communities to help deter wrongdoing."

"I want to invest in it and get more people involved - and that's what we're going to do over the next year or two."

It is not known how much cash will be earmarked.

The review would take around two months and would provide clear recommendations, he added.

Band to make festive song

THE band behind the Stephen Sutton charity single which shot to number two in the download charts is to record a Christmas song.

Neon Brotherhood, who sold 15,000 copies of Hope Ain't a Bad Thing, have vowed to stay together and continue fundraising for at least another year.

The band will record their festive tune at Burntwood in August. They are also planning another track next year.

Band member Kate Hoare said: "I think Stephen would be pleased we were spreading the word about cancer."

Dedication service

THE war memorial at St Michael and All Angels Church in Penkridge will be re-dedicated to commemorate the centenary of Britain's entry into the First World War. The ceremony, organised by the parish council and the Royal British Legion, takes place on August 3 at 2pm.

Triathlon to bring a big boost to county

THE famous Ironman triathlon competition is coming to Staffordshire – bringing with it a £2.7 million boost to the local economy.

The county council has secured a contract to hold the contest for the next three years, starting with Ironman 70.3 Staffordshire on June 14 next year.

It will include a 1.2 mile swim at Chasewater, a 56-mile bike ride across countryside near Lichfield, Burton and Cannock Chase and a 13.1 mile run from Shugborough Hall.

Kevin Stewart, managing director for Ironman UK & Ireland, said: "Staffordshire is in a central location which will enable people to come from miles around, while Shugborough provides the perfect backdrop for the finish line."

Councillor Mike Lawrence, cabinet member for communities, said: "Attracting a world-famous sporting event like Ironman is great news for Staffordshire's economy, its tourism industry and local people."

"The event will bring thousands of visitors to Staffordshire and boost the economy by £2.7 million," he added.

Recruits tally is doubled

STAFFORDSHIRE Police is to take on 80 constables – almost double the amount expected.

The force initially aimed to bring in 42 new constables over the next 12 months, but it is now looking to increase that total to 80 after around 3,000 applied for a job.

Bosses have now whittled that figure down to around 500 applicants who have recently passed an initial selection process and they have brought forward next year's recruitment scheme to help them try to meet demand.

Lions meeting

HEDNESFORD Lions is looking to recruit and people wishing to join can find out more at a meeting this month. The Meet the Lions evening is at the Hen House, Eskrett Street, from 8pm on Tuesday, July 15. Email info@hednesfordlions.co.uk or call 08449 63245.

Well-wishers gather for Margot fundraiser

Organisers Sam Sarsfield and Emily Collins

HUNDREDS of well-wishers gathered at a charity event inspired by a brave little girl's battle against blood cancer.

Young Margot Martini, whose mother Vicky attended Cheslyn Hay High School, underwent a bone marrow transplant earlier this year after she was diagnosed with a rare form of leukaemia in October.

Her courageous fight captured the hearts of thousands and sparked a worldwide hunt to find a perfect stem cell match.

More than 50,000 people signed up and Margot underwent treatment for acute lymphoblastic leukaemia and acute my-eloid leukaemia aged just 14 months. It was thought the operation had been a success but earlier this month she underwent a bone marrow aspirate test which revealed the presence of a low amount of Acute Lymphoblastic Leukaemia.

Her family have said she is in the early stages of relapse but they are doing all they can to stay positive. Her fight has inspired fundraisers to hold events across the country to raise cash for Delete Blood Cancer.

The latest charity bash – Dance 4 Margot – was held at The Slade Rooms in Wolverhampton. Organiser Emily Collins, aged 21, said: "Hearing that Margot was ill came as a massive shock. I'm just glad we can do our little bit to help."

Emily spent three months planning the event with her friend from the University of Wolverhampton, Samantha Sarsfield, of Tettenhall.

The event featured live music and a raffle with prizes including Harry Potter books signed by JK Rowling, backstage passes to see hit TV show A League of Their Own and a football autographed by the Wolves squad. A corner of the venue was also set aside for people to donate swabs.

Carnival capers as annual village fete makes history

by Rob Gollledge

MORE than 4,000 people flocked to Great Wyrley Carnival last weekend – the biggest day on the village's calendar.

It was made up of more than 50 stalls, a fun fair, a show ring and a 2.5 mile procession – the largest organisers can remember with around 19 floats.

Picking up first prize in the float awards was Landywood Playgroup, with Moat Hall Primary School and St Thomas More Primary picking up second and third place respectively.

Great Wyrley Townswomen's Guild won the best dressed stall competition which had a suffragette theme.

Carnival secretary Pauline Kelsey said: "It has been absolutely brilliant – one of the largest we have had with a horse and cart from the Royal British Legion, MGs and other classic cars, two marching bands; the Chase Royals and Chase Drum Corps, we also had the Cannock Pipe Band, Great Wyrley Community Band, Bloxwich Gym Club and Dance Fusion.

Fantastic

"It is simply fantastic and there has been 54 stalls from local organisations and charities who I am sure have done very well out of the day.

"The carnival takes a lot of organising but it is the biggest and best of its kind anywhere in the region."

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson formed part of the judging team. He said: "The procession was great and so difficult to judge.

"But the one job that is more difficult than that is judging the children's fancy dress competition – they are always so good.

"Great Wyrley Carnival is one of those events you simply do not want to miss."

Bette Webb, chairman of Great Wyrley Townswomen, said: "It has been a lovely day. We have had help from our husbands and a few weeks ago we went to the Houses of Parliament and got a Suffragette postcard which we reproduced for our stall.

"The theme of the carnival is history and the townswomen's guild originates from the suffragettes – so it seemed rather fitting. We are so pleased to have taken home the shield."

IN MY VIEW

WITH MARK ANDREWS

THREE things spring to mind following Luis Suarez's latest attempt at a bit of light cannibalism.

First of all, the behaviour exhibited by the Uruguay striker during the World Cup in Brazil was truly disgraceful. The man clearly has problems, and such conduct has no place on a football field.

Secondly, if anybody seriously thinks a four-match ban is sufficient punishment for such outrageous behaviour – and remember this is the third time he has tried to feast on one of his opponents – then they are surely deluded. And thirdly – and most importantly of all, don't you just wish he had been able to do it before he put two past England?

MAYBE if Fifa is serious about helping Suarez with his, ahem, dietary problems, he ought to try taking a leaf out of Anita Smith's book. Literally.

Anita developed a taste for paperbacks while pregnant with her second child, and over the past 20 years she reckons she has munched her way through more than 6,000 books.

The 49-year-old former insurance clerk, presumably she had to give up work to devote more time to her book collection, says in the early days she used to gorge herself in the library, but her conscience got the better of her. Now she buys them in second-hand shops at 50p a throw.

Could you imagine Suarez in a bookshop or a library? He would never live it down.

ANDY Murray's mother Judith is said to be 'in the advanced stages' of negotiating a place on Strictly Come Dancing. Is it me, or does that sound like a medical condition?

INCIDENTALLY, I have already decided that this year's Wimbledon is the best yet.

What? Better than last year, when we had the first British winner since 1936? Better than when John McEnroe smashed up the drinks machine 30-odd years ago? Definitely.

Because this week, while a noisy section of the population will be screaming at their television sets like banshees about Tiger Jim or whoever it is these days, I will be basking in the 80 degree sunshine of Kotor harbour in Montenegro, with not a tennis racquet in sight. More strawberries?

BARCLAY'S has developed a smart phone app which allows people to make payments into their account by photographing a cheque and sending it down the phone line to the bank.

Brilliant. Given the impenetrable security surrounding mobile phone devices, as exhibited by the recent phone-hacking scandal, what could possibly go wrong?

Eight-year-old Jade on track with her badges

Jade's mother Jackie Tidswell sews on a badge

Badge of honour as Jade gets 50

Cub's determined effort is rewarded with top Scout-ing award as DEBORAH HARDIMAN found out

FROM ice-skating and archery to cooking on a camp fire and helping toads cross the road safely – Cub Scout Jade Tidswell is fully prepared.

The determined eight-year-old has notched up 50 activity badges in just seven months.

Jade who attends the 11th Burton Scouts based in Yoxall is thought to be among the few Cubs in the country to have completed so many challenges and in such a short space of time.

Jade threw herself into a string of new hobbies and interests including swimming, football and cycling as well as caring for her pet rabbit and collecting coins in her quest to live up to the scouting motto 'Be Prepared'.

As a reward for her outstanding achievements the St Peter's CE School pupil attained the top Chief Scout's Silver Award and will be presented with a certificate that carries the signature of the Chief Scout Bear Grylls.

Her efforts have also raised more than £1,000 in sponsorship for the Cubs and the Midlands Air Ambulance charity.

She has even met the air ambulance crew and was given a tour of their base at Tatenhill Airfield near her Staffordshire home and visited Burton Fire Station as part of work towards her Local Knowledge badge.

She was allowed to sit in the helicopter during her visit to the airfield.

While at the fire station she learned to use a water hose along with her brother Jack, aged five, who is a Beaver Scout. Other challenges included rescuing toads from danger as they crossed a country lane. Accompanied by her mother

Jade Tidswell shows off the armful of badges she has earned with the Cubs

Jackie, who shone her car headlights, Jade would go out every night and help the toads to cross the road safely to acquire the Global Conservation badge.

Jade, of Newborough, says: "I enjoy being a Cub Scout. My favourite badge was Ice Skating. I also loved working on the Home Help badge because I enjoy helping people to do things. I have done all the badges now so I can't do another activity badge, but I keep on with all my hobbies. When I grow up I would like to be a police officer or a vet."

She was rewarded with the Chief

Scout's Silver Award the highest accolade that Cubs can achieve because she attained all six of the special Cub Challenge badges. These were the Promise, Community, Fitness, Creative, Global Conservation and Outdoor awards.

In addition she managed to complete five extra tasks and these were Backwoods Cooking, Disability Awareness, Fire Safety, Pioneer, Water Safety which were only introduced in April.

Activity badges allow Scouts to show their progress in existing pursuits and to try new things and form new interests.

Challenge awards involve accomplishing more ambitious projects within the troop or community.

The 11th Burton Scouts leader Angela Burns is full of praise for the busy youngster. "Jade moved up from Beavers to Cubs last September," she said.

"In Beavers she had collected quite a few badges and really enjoyed doing them. By the time she became a Cub she was really bitten by the bug.

"What is unusual is that Jade has not only gained all the activity badges, but has acquired the six challenge badges as well.

"Not many Cubs have achieved all of them and she must be among the few across the country to have done it.

"Jade has worked especially hard to get the last five that were only recently added by the Scouts Association.

"She's a lovely girl and such a pleasure to have in the group, she's very helpful to others."

Jade's efforts were sponsored by Staffordshire Football Association, Tyretracks of Marchington, John Lichfield Services, Birchwood Kennels, JST Transport (UK) Ltd, Commercial Vehicle Service, Hadley Reclaimed, Denis Welch Motors, 4Strokes Swimming club, horse farrier Mark Massey, J S Meats, Ashford Plant Hire, and plasterer Kev Archer.

The cubs meet at St Peter's School, King Street, on Mondays and Thursdays at 6.30pm New children are welcome.

POLITICS

WITH DANIEL WAINWRIGHT

TONY Blair's three priorities were 'education, education, education'. But I'm not so sure he or anyone else has managed to achieve even the first one.

I'm sorry if it offends the many hard-working teachers who have made strides in terms of exam results. It's the politicians I'm talking about. In 2014 we still don't seem to have grasped what it is we're meant to be teaching our kids.

Dudley North MP Ian Austin brought the shadow education secretary Tristram Hunt to his patch. Mr Hunt, incidentally, is the historian and broadcaster turned politician who occasionally gets tipped as a possible replacement for Ed Miliband.

While they were touring the impressive Dudley College, talking to enthusiastic young people, learning everything from art to how to run the hospitality on aeroplanes, they were speaking about the need to boost skills.

"We've lost many of our traditional industrial jobs and I think the biggest question we face is how we bring new, well-paid and secure jobs to the Black Country to replace them," Mr Austin said. He's right, of course. So is Tristram Hunt when he says young people needed to accept that the days of well-paid, low skilled jobs were over.

Bilston steelworks shut in 1979. People tried with all their might to save it but the Thatcher government would not intervene in the decision of the British Steel Corporation. That was the biggest blow the town ever suffered. Here's where I start to despair about the situation today.

I stumbled across the one and only article in the Express & Star's digital archive written by a young Boris Johnson, now Mayor of London, when he was a trainee reporter sent by The Times to cut his teeth in the real world. In it, Boris reports on a rising number of vacancies in the Black Country in 1988 and a lack of applicants to fill them.

"To a great extent the bosses are frustrated because the unemployed who come to them for jobs are short of essential skills," he wrote. "Many skills, such as those required in steel manufacture, have become outdated with the decline of heavy industry."

In those 26 years we have had five Prime Ministers, an overhaul of schools to create thousands of academies, the longest recession since the Second World War and we don't seem to be any further on.

Boris Johnson could have been writing about 2014 as much as about 1988. But then the political elite are almost all Oxbridge educated and these days the route to Westminster is trod by researchers and special advisers. We can't expect them to know what kids need to learn to get a proper job in the real world, when so MPs many have never had one themselves.

Homecoming glory in regiment's last hurrah

CHEERING crowds and flag-waving schoolchildren greeted soldiers in an emotional homecoming from their final tour of duty in Afghanistan.

It came as the 3rd Battalion the Mercian Regiment (3Mercian), formerly the Staffords, is to merge with two other battalions as part of plans to reduce the regular army by 20,000. The march followed similar parades in Wolverhampton, Stafford and Walsall.

More than 250 soldiers took part in the pageant in Cannock after which they received the Freedom of the District, alongside the Staffordshire Regimental Association, who also marched.

The parade, headed by the Royal Army Corps Band, started at St Luke's Church and turned into the town centre, cheered on by proud family members, friends and supporters waving Union flags.

Special

Children from St Peter's Primary in Hednesford brought a specially-made regimental banner and their own school standard.

Pupils from St Luke's Primary in Cannock were also among the crowd.

It was a special day for 22-year-old Pte Daniel Summers, from Bradbury Lane, Hednesford, cheered on by parents Lynda and Michael, brother Darren, 25, and friends.

He said: "It's a good feeling to be marching through my own home town, especially with my family being here, but it's also sad that it's the last time I'll ever do it with this battalion."

Former Cannock Chase High School pupil, Sgt Maj Jay Woodward, 32, said: "This is an occasion for us to show people who we are."

Sgt Major Jay Woodward of Hednesford

The Mercian regiment marches through Cannock town centre

The salute was taken by Lord Lieutenant Ian Dudson. Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said: "With the centenary of the start of the First World War almost upon us, it has never been more important to show our respect and gratitude."

The parade was led by Commanding Officer of 3 Mercian, Lieutenant Colonel Christopher Davies.

Veteran Mike Cooper, 74, of Pyle

Green Road, who served with the RAF for 15 years, carried the standard of the Cannock RAFA branch.

It was a poignant occasion for Barbara Young, 76, of Cheslyn Way, and her daughter Angela Highman. Mrs Young's ex-serviceman husband Richard died in March.

At a reception that followed, soldiers were presented with their operational service medals for Afghanistan.

8 Whose oil is it in the North Sea?

The Chronicle Thursday, July 3, 2014

BY what reasoning do the Scots contend that North Sea oil belongs to them? Unless my aged memory has deteriorated to the point of advanced dementia, the oil platform is operated by 'British Petroleum', not 'Scottish Energy'.

Yes, the site is located off the Scottish coast, but France is located off the south coast of England and we haven't (as yet) laid claim to that territory!

In the event of a vote in favour of independence, Alex Salmond's Scottish National Party has announced its intention of retaining the 'sovereign'. Maybe they are confusing the sovereign with the pound sterling, but their chances of retaining either one, rest somewhere between nil and zero!

Let's give voting rights to English, Welsh and Northern Irish citizens. There could be only one outcome; the immediate ejection of Scotland from the UK.

ON behalf of the Youth Sport Trust and Sky Sports Living for Sport I would like to extend my thanks to the inspirational pupils and teachers who welcomed me so warmly at King Edward VI School in Lichfield.

The vision and commitment of the teachers was plain to see and it was wonderful to witness the energy and enthusiasm of the pupils I met. They were keen to share their experiences and insights from their Sky Sports Living for Sport project.

In my role as an Athlete Mentor for Sky Sports Living for Sport, which is delivered in partnership with the Youth Sport Trust, I strive to inspire young people to be the best that they can be across all areas of their lives. I use a variety of sporting activities to get the students involved and active.

I also shared my own journey as a professional sports person with the pupils at King Edward VI School and told them about the challenges I faced and overcame to excel. I encouraged them to draw on the British Athletes Commission's 'Six Keys to Success' which include mental toughness, hunger to achieve and planning for success. I asked the pupils to think about the many skills and lessons you learn through participating in sport and how these can be applied to help them achieve all their life goals.

The young people I met on this visit were a credit to the school and I came away from the school feeling incredibly inspired myself.

Different sports inspire different people but there's a sport for everyone and finding it can be life changing. I hope I have encouraged the pupils to find their sport, walk tall, aim high and stay focused on reaching their goals.

Freedom honour is so richly deserved

IT is an honour for the Mercian Regiment – of which The Staffords are a part – and for the Staffordshire Regimental Association to be awarded the Freedom of Cannock Chase District. It is a special honour as they were the first to be given it. However, the truth is that the honour is ours.

To be able to say thank you and to show our respect to these brave men and women who have served our country so well is an honour for Cannock Chase Council and for the residents of our district.

It is sad that the Staffords are no more but we had the chance to say thank you and local people turned out in droves to do so and really enjoyed the occasion.

The Staffords, past and present, deserved no less. We all owe them so much.

GEORGE ADAMSON, Cannock Council leader

Following Neal's effort

FOLLOWING the magnificent cycle ride from Stafford to Barmouth by Neal Evans, a former patient of Stafford Headway, the amount donated by the public has already reached in excess of £500.

It is my aim to raise £1,000, which equates to £10 for every mile covered by Neal in atrocious weather conditions.

National media highlights the concerns over former Formula One racing driver Michael Schumacher. We are all pleased to note that he has come out of his induced coma following a skiing accident in which he suffered severe head injuries. No one is able to predict who may suffer brain damage and require help. I hope that everyone will support me in raising £1,000 by sending donations to Headway, South Staffordshire at 96a Stone Road, Stafford, ST16 2RS or to myself at 46 Crab Lane, Stafford, ST16 1SA.

COUNCILLOR FRANK D J JAMES
Chairman Headway South Staffordshire

Churchyard is still in a terrible state

A FEW months ago you printed my letter about the condition of the churchyard at St John's Church, Heath Hayes.

I was pleased to read other people have now highlighted its terrible state. On one occasion we even spoke to someone in the church office, but did not get much response.

We visited the churchyard on June 21, and what a sight it was; the grass was above our knees and in a lot of places it came up to the tops of our arms, and that was the situation when we went to our parents grave (that's when we eventually found it). We even went along the wrong row because the graves were overgrown, the grass was up to the tops of our arms. It is so upsetting for relatives when they go to tend to their loved ones graves.

They always make sure the front and sides of the church is immaculate, which gives a false impression to the overall standard. As for Cannock Council not to do anything about this situation and not even commenting, it is despicable.

Cycling to see Wolves

I AM 70 and went to my first Wolves match in 1953. I went to matches for a good many years.

I lived in Cemetery Road in Cannock, and I used to bike to the matches and there was a shop by the South Bank with a very large yard at the side, where we could park the bike for three pence and pick it up after the match.

Do any of our older readers remember this shop?

This was in the days before diving and cheating.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

10 Homes bought to allow for HS2

Thursday, July 3, 2014

FORTY homes worth a combined £25 million have been snapped up to make way for the HS2 rail link.

The portfolio has been accumulated by HS2 Ltd, the government-owned company behind the £50bn scheme.

So far 22 homes in Staffordshire have been bought for £14.45m with a further 17 purchases agreed but not completed.

In North Warwickshire 18 homes worth £9.57m have been sold to the State with another 27 deals to be approved.

The homes have been bought under the Exceptional Hardship Scheme, where people have demonstrated a major need to move, and a separate scheme for those who live within 60 metres of the line.

The most expensive house bought up is Cuttle Mill Fishery next to the Belfry golf course, bought for £1.745,000 in January last year. The cheapest house the Government acquired was a semi in Birchmoor in Staffordshire for £104,000.

Council asked to join lobby group after 5,000 signatures

MORE than 5,000 people have signed a petition calling for the county council to join a national anti-HS2 pressure group.

Opponents to the £50bn scheme delivered the signatures to council bosses. That will now trigger a debate over whether the authority should become part of 51M – a collection of local authorities campaigning against the project.

Despite being against the rail link, the authority has resisted calls to join the group – citing concerns over costly legal fees from failed High Court challenges already mounted against the project. Bob Gasch from Marston, near Stafford, led a delegation of campaigners to deliver the petition to officials.

by Rob Gollledge

He said: “For the past 12 months local action group Marston Against HS2 have been canvassing for signatures in all-weather around the county to petition Staffordshire County Council to join 51M a group of 19 local authorities who have joined together in a national campaign to actively challenge the HS2 project.

“We met with Dean Sargeant of the council to hand over 5,600 signatures to add to the petition numbers bringing the total to around 6,000.

“We, along with national campaign groups ‘Stop HS2’ and ‘HS2 Action Alliance’, have been campaigning around the country to Stop HS2.”

Failed legal battles against HS2 has cost the taxpayer more than £600,000 in costs with the Department for Transport trying to recover its costs from the three appellants, including the councils, which are members of the taxpayer-funded 51M.

Both Lichfield District Council and Stafford Borough Council are members but will not be liable to pay any court costs.

Mark Winnington, cabinet Member for economy and infrastructure, said: “We are absolutely opposed to HS2.

“However, we do have to balance limited resources with other priorities for spending for the residents of Staffordshire and have decided to work with communities locally to put forward informed mitigation proposals to reduce the impact of the project and also fight for decent compensation if the proposals go ahead.”

Police on the hunt for flasher

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a man exposed himself to a dog walker.

The incident took place while the woman was walking her dogs along land known locally as The Pony, which is between Saturn Way and Cannock Road in Chadsmoor.

The woman saw the man standing on a hill looking down at her and he was exposing himself. He then ran off.

Officers have launched an investigation and are appealing for anyone who may be able to help to get in touch.

The man was described as white, 5ft 4in tall with a large build and broad shoulders. Police say he had short, black hair and wore a green T-shirt underneath a burgundy hooded top and blue jeans. The incident happened on Thursday, June 12 just after 10am.

Anyone with information should call Pc Steven Wain on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Children given food for thought

Chase View pupils Ellie-Mae Halden, Erin Greenfield and Kiera Hull in their chef hats

RUGELEY pupils were given food for thought when they took part in a Junior Masterchef challenge. The Year 5 pupils from Chase View Primary School cooked up a treat during their visit to the Toby Carvery in Norton Canes.

The youngsters' first task was to design and make their own chef hats incorporating as many healthy ingredients as possible before then being shown how meals are prepared. A tour of the restaurant and two interactive quizzes followed. The children then sampled a carvery meal, with dessert to follow.

A school spokesman said: "This was a fantastic experience for the children."

Travellers exit stadium site

COUNCIL bosses have confirmed travellers who moved onto the former stadium site in Cannock last week have left.

Around 50 caravans appeared at Cannock Stadium off Pye Green Road in Hednesford last Thursday morning. A padlocked gate was broken to gain entry. It is believed the travellers were the same group that parked up on a field off Bee Lane, in Fordhouses next to Elston Hall Primary School – forcing staff to cancel sports day.

Cannock Chase Council spokesman Jamie Summerfield said: "The travellers have moved on."

Housing

"They left just after midday on Monday," he added. The council worked with the police to move them on."

Cannock Stadium closed in 2008, forcing groups including Cannock and Stafford Athletics Club to find a new base.

The site was originally earmarked for housing but plans were scrapped in 2012 when Labour members of Cannock Chase Council announced the site would instead be used for sport and leisure once again.

Football pitches and an athletics track are the preferred options for the site.

£2.7m hot tub fraud gang sent to prison

A HOT tub fraudster who was jailed for three-and-a-half years declared: "It's better to have lived a millionaire's lifestyle and lost it than to never have lived a millionaire's lifestyle at all."

The admission came from Simon Foster, who, through his Rugeley-based hot tub firm Spaserve, committed fraud on an industrial scale by taking customers' money upfront for home spas worth thousands that they never received.

When the firm collapsed in 2010, hundreds of customers were owed a total of £2.7 million - and they are still out of pocket.

With sales manager and co-owner Stuart Cox, 40, of Oak Way, Sutton Coldfield, Foster traded under a series of names online including The Trade Price Group, UK Hot Tubs, and Magic Spas. Together they withdrew more than £1 million out of the business, with Foster living a life of luxury, including foreign holidays, an executive box at Birmingham City FC and had three Porsches on the driveway of his mansion at Milford on the edge of Cannock Chase.

They conned customers into believing they were getting American-made hot tubs when in fact they were cheap Chinese models.

Delivery

Alongside employee Jonathan Husselbee, 37, of High Street, Dosthill, near Tamworth, they lied about anticipated delivery dates to stop customers from cancelling their orders.

In some cases the orders were never made, Stafford Crown Court was told. After a three month trial the trio were found guilty of fraudulent trading and conspiracy to defraud.

The court heard the firm, of Towers Business Park, Rugeley, took between £6m and £8m worth of orders for 2,000 hot tubs over three-and-a-half years from April 2007 to October 2010.

But only in the region of 1,600 - many of them sub-standard - were ever delivered. Foster, aged 49, took at least £900,000 from the business while Cox took in the region of £200,000 plus £100,000 in expenses. Husselbee was paid a £35,000 annual salary plus benefits.

Prosecutor Mr Adrian Keeling QC said: "This was a deliberate fraud and was sophisticated. Foster in particular spent the money on a lavish lifestyle.

"By his own admission he said that 'it's better to have lived a millionaire's lifestyle and lost it than to never have lived a millionaire's lifestyle at all'."

The jury heard Foster and his wife Katie were

Jonathan Husselbee

Simon Foster

joint owners of a firm called Acara, which supplied hot tubs. It went into liquidation in 2007 with debts of £500,000 and assets of just £200.

The Insolvency Service had considered disqualifying Foster from being a company director, but decided not to.

Jailing Foster to three-and-a-half years, Cox to two-and-a-half and Husselbee to two years Judge Amjad Nawaz said the operation had been a 'cynical vehicle for fraud'.

DS Rob Harvey, from Staffordshire Police's Fraud and Financial Investigation Unit, said: "This case highlights that fraud is a criminal act motivated by greed."

MP cuts ribbon at new garage

MP Aidan Burley opens the new garage with, back, Stuart Woodward, branch manager Kevin Holder and Mo Suleman

A NEW car garage has opened up in Cannock creating seven jobs. Even more jobs could follow when business picks up at Eurofit AutoCentres in Longford Road, Bridgtown.

The company already operates sites across the West Midlands and the latest was opened by Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley. The firm's Maz Ali said: "We have opened at state-of-the-art workshop which we are really proud about."

Bridgtown branch manager Kevin Holder said: "We have already taken on a new worker since opening.

"We are looking to create even more jobs than the initial seven. When business picks up we'll need more people."

Homes plan at dog track

HOUSEBUILDERS Taylor Wimpey has acquired an area of land for potential development in Norton Canes, bringing homes and investment to the area.

The company has completed the purchase of the former Norton Canes greyhound track site off Brownhills Road. The 18-acre plot already has outline planning permission for 130 homes and Taylor Wimpey has submitted a reserved matters planning application, which will be determined by Cannock Chase District Council.

Allotments

Eighteen of the proposed three and four-bedroom homes would be affordable properties available through rented or shared ownership tenures. The plans also include allotments, a kickabout area and a play area/multi-use games area.

Taylor Wimpey Midlands managing director Roger Northam said: "We are delighted to have secured such a prestigious site and have consulted closely with Norton Canes parish council.

"The project will bring many benefits to the village and the region as a whole, including the creation of much-needed housing as well as new employment opportunities plus significant investment in the local community."

Visitors can spend a morning learning about the history and uses of falconry and then handle and feed a selection of raptors.

They can also have photographs taken with the birds. Dogs are not allowed. Admission is £5 for adults and £3 for children. Booking is required on 01543 871773.

Drug money launderer is ordered to pay up

A WOMAN who helped to launder dirty money for Black Country drug lord John Anslow has been ordered to repay almost £4,500.

Jacqueline Hughes had benefited to the tune of £30,000 from the racket, a Proceeds of Crime hearing was told. But the realisable assets of the 42-year-old only amounted to £4,449, Wolverhampton Crown Court heard.

The hearing was told Hughes worked for a firm called Molineux Boilers that seemed to have paid Anslow £4,597 a month after tax and other stoppages.

Mr Andrew Wallace said: "He appeared to be an employee of the company but the worksheets do not show him doing any work."

Anslow is one of the most notorious criminals in the West Midlands and flaunted his cash with a lavish lifestyle of luxury cars, global holidays and sponsorship of Wolves games.

Mother of two Hughes, from Mayhurst Close, Tipton was given a 12-month prison term suspended for two years with £2,000 costs and 150 hours' unpaid work in June last year.

She had pleading guilty to facilitating the acquisition, use or control of criminal property in the shape of the BMW X6 and laundering cash from crime to help with the purchase of another car between March and September 2010.

On that occasion Wolverhampton Crown Court heard Hughes registered a £46,000 BMW X6 used by Anslow in her name between September 2009 and October 2010 and put £30,000 laundered drug money towards the purchase of another Audi for him.

Judge Nicholas Webb ob-

Jacqueline Hughes - order

served: "Molineux Boilers seems to have been used as a conduit to allow him to appear respectable."

Mr Matthew Hardyman, defending, said: "She thought she was doing a favour to a friend of the family but latterly her suspicions were aroused. However, she turned a blind eye because at the same time, she was caring for a young child and a terminally ill relative. There was no financial or direct benefit to her whatsoever."

Judge Webb has made a confiscation order in the sum of £4,449 and gave Hughes six months to pay, otherwise she faces three months behind bars.

Anslow, 33, from Tipton is serving a total of 29 years six months for drug dealing and plotting his escape from a prison van.

Charity's new furniture shop to be unveiled

BARGAIN hunters can grab a deal and help a charity at the same time when a new shop opens in Cannock.

The ribbon will be cut to unveil the St Giles Hospice furniture and household shop in Walsall Road, next Thursday (July 10).

It will be open on Monday to Saturday from 9am to 5pm, and on a Sunday from 10am to 4pm.

Donations of household items are welcome and can be dropped off at the store during opening hours. Collections of quality furniture or larger or heavier items can be arranged by calling 0121 308 8008.

The store will complement the existing St Giles Hospice shop in Wolverhampton Road, which has proved to be a huge hit with shoppers for a quarter of a century and will continue to stock a wide range of clothing, household, books and other items.

Lynwen Truesdale, head of retail for St Giles Hospice, said: "We last sold furniture in Cannock 18 months ago, and were keen to get a furniture store reopened in the town as soon as possible."

"We have now found the perfect new premises to do so and we cannot wait to welcome customers old and new when the shop opens next week."

Wish comes true as son 'gives away' his mother

IT was the day Carla Marshall had dreamed of – for her son to give her away at her wedding day.

And that day almost came true as the 19-year-old walked down the aisle with her little boy, who is terminally ill.

Carla and her boyfriend Kyle Matthews, 22, had mixed emotions as they took part in a mock-up wedding in Penkridge on Friday.

Friends, family and donors had rallied round to try to make the ceremony a reality because her two-year-old son D'shawn has been given less than six months to live.

Carla wanted him to see her get married before he loses his battle with several health problems.

The pair were blessed in a marriage re-enactment at St Michael and All Angels Church.

The former student walked down the aisle in a fabulous vintage-style purple gown to Ellie Goulding's hit ballad How Long Will I Love You.

Appealed

And as she arrived D'shawn was at her side, but blissfully fast asleep in his special buggy. The event was led by the Rev Greg Yerbury, who opened up the church for the service after the family and the charity Dads appealed for help to organise the special day.

Carla said: "It's been absolutely amazing and emotional at the same time. I would just like to say a big thank you to everyone for their donations and support."

"I can't thank you all enough for making this such a special day for us all."

It was part of a modest bucket list that former student Carla, of Chesterton Road, Wednesfield, has drawn up for D'shawn to enjoy. They involve visits to children's theme parks and tourist centres.

She arranged the event because he will not be around when she one day ties the knot for real. He suffers from epilepsy, brain damage, microcephaly, delayed development and partial sight. He cannot walk, talk, hold his head up or grasp toys, and has to be tube-fed.

His mother added: "It was exciting and all I wanted for D'shawn. Other than the rain it's been perfect."

"It was a really beautiful ceremony and I'm glad the vicar was able to accommodate us."

Around 30 family and friends and a 36-strong choir from the nearby St Michael's First School looked on as Kyle and Carla exchanged special 'girlfriend' and 'boyfriend' vows.

The choir led the singing with All Things Bright and Beautiful and Louis Armstrong's What A Wonderful World.

Carla's mother Tracey Alexander said: "It was just brilliant."

Charlatans award presented

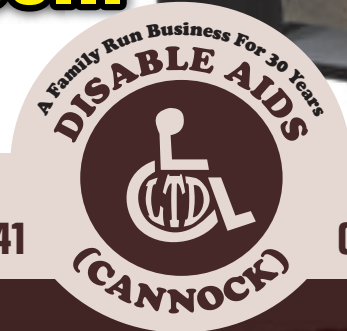

THE Charlatans bass guitarist Martin Blunt was the guest of honour at a Midland college to hand out an award to a student in memory of his bandmate. He was at Shrewsbury College to present second year student Zakk Wilson with the Jon Brookes Award for endeavour for his hard work and determination. The award is named after the band's drummer, who died from a brain tumour last year. Mr Brookes, from Burntwood, helped the college to launch the Roland Academy for music in 2009, and the awards were a way of celebrating his legacy. Mr Blunt said: "It was a pleasure to be asked to present the award which represents Jon's legacy. "It was good to see the students from Shrewsbury and surrounding areas expressing themselves musically." Music technology lecturer Robert Wear said: "It was amazing to have Martin present such an important award and to be able to come and meet the students. "Jon did so much for us at the college."

PROPOSALS have been submitted to turn a former Royal British Legion social club in Rugeley into new houses. Four two-bedroom homes would be built on the site of the disused Bow Street club. A planning application has been submitted to Cannock Chase District Council to demolish the club. A decision will be made in the next few months. The club closed in January last year after its lease holders, Horizon Drinks, pulled out just 14 months after taking over. The alcohol and soft drinks supplier had leased the club since November 2011 but decided not to re-new its licence for reasons which are unknown. Since then the club house has not been used. The planned homes would be largely open plan on the ground floor, with two double bedrooms and a small office on the first floor. The frontage of the houses would be kept traditional to fit in with the surroundings. Each plot would have front and rear private gardens and there would be off-road parking in a car park across the road. A report by architects RKD Design, stated: "The call for housing in the area much outweighs the demand for public houses, especially when there are so many in such close proximity. "We feel that it would be beneficial to demolish and rebuild a development more in keeping with the surrounding buildings and will greatly enhance the appearance of the area to the public." But ward councillor Mick Grocott said: "I appreciate that we must move with the times and that the council has a local plan for creating new houses but I think we need to preserve social clubs like this one." Since its closure, the branch has been based at Olly's Bar, also in Bow Street.

FOCUS ON BURNTWOOD

Stephen's brother is first class

THE brother of the inspirational Stephen Sutton is celebrating getting a first class honours degree.

Christopher Sutton sat some of his final exams after his brave sibling had died of cancer.

Christopher, aged 21, averaged 81 per cent in his final exams in maths and mathematical physics at the University College London, and 87 per cent across the four years.

He started the finals when Stephen, of Burntwood, was admitted to hospital in April and completed the last three after he died of cancer.

His mother Jane revealed his 'incredible' achievement on the Stephen's Story Facebook page.

She said: "Everyone knows how amazing Stephen was. However, I also have another amazing son, Christopher who has been studying for the past 4 years at University College London.

"Yesterday he got his results and he will graduate with a First Class Honours degree in Mathematics and Mathematical Physics.

"Your achievements are incredible and I'm so proud of you. 'Chris you're a star or 'awesome' which is how Stephen would have described you."

Council planning to turn food waste into energy

RESIDENTS in Burntwood and across Lichfield district are being asked not to put food waste in their brown bins, but to use their black bins instead.

Lichfield District Council is changing the way it processes the food waste it collects from homes across the district this summer.

Food waste must now be put into black bins or composted at home with brown bins used for garden waste only.

Councillor Iain Eadie said: "If you put food waste in your brown bin we have to send it all to a special indoor composting facility, so the bacteria in the food are destroyed.

"If you don't put food waste in your brown bin, your garden waste can be composted outside.

"Because around only 20 per cent of people put food waste in their brown bin, as many compost at home instead, we're composting garden waste at a higher temperature, which isn't efficient."

Previously, all black bin rubbish across Staffordshire was sent to landfill.

By Charlotte Lilley

Residents will receive a leaflet through their doors in July, and a sticker on their brown bin to remind them to put their food waste in the correct bin.

Mr Eadie said the council had recently started sending black bin waste to a special facility that turns it into power.

He added: "This means the food waste people put in their black bins will be used to create energy.

"Every year the black bin waste people throw away across Staffordshire generates 23 mega watts - enough to power 30,000 homes for a year."

To find out more about the changes, visit www.lichfielddc.gov.uk/whyblackbin

Councillor Woodward and George Adamson with food bank co-ordinators and volunteers

First hand glimpse at food bank

A BURNTWOOD councillor visited a food bank to see first hand how it works.

Councillor Sue Woodward spent the morning at Cannock & District Food Bank, operated by Pye Green Christian Centre in Hednesford, along with Cannock Chase District Council leader, George Adamson.

The centre has seen a demand for its services since it was set up in November 2012.

It has more than 120 volunteers and distributes emergency food supplies via 12 centres across the area.

Councillor Woodward said: "It is a disgrace that emergency food supplies like this are needed in this country in the 21st century.

"The main reasons for this emergency need comes from benefit changes and delays, homelessness and people fleeing domestic violence.

"It is heart-warming that so many people donate."

Summer fun for children in district

BUG hunting, gymnastics, swimming and drama are among the activities on offer during the summer holidays across Lichfield district.

Burntwood Leisure Centre will host a holiday club and swimming lessons. Football sessions for a fiver are also on offer at the venue in High Street, Chasetown.

Councillor Andy Smith, cabinet member for leisure and parks, said: "Our summer holiday fun programme offers children and young people a great range of activities.

"Places book up early, so we're reminding families to make sure they take a look at the programme and book as soon as they can.

"We also offer early bird prices on a number of activities at Friary Grange Leisure Centre, which are available until 6 July."

The council is sending out t programmes to schools. They are also available at Burntwood, Friary Grange and King Edward VI leisure centres and at Beacon Park.

Gateway club adult disco

BURNTWOOD Gateway Club holds its Stars Disco for Vulnerable Adults on Friday, July 4 from 7pm to 10pm at Burntwood Memorial Community Hall, Rugeley Road.

It is open to over-18s and admission is £3 per person. Call Anne Scandrett on 01543 301497.

Teenagers dressed for success at prom night

Amanda Baker shows off some of the ballgowns on sale at Celebrity Prom, Bridgtown, that can cost £550

AS parents count the cost of their children's end of year school prom, a Cannock store is ensuring teenagers dress for success.

Gowns at Celebrity Prom in Bridgtown come in every conceivable style and colour, starting at £150 and rising to £550.

The traditional tulle-layered pink princess look is still the most popular, particularly with junior prom students but manager Christine Rowlands said: "We've sold a lot of slinky style dressess, still long but fitted or floaty, in nudes, golds and pale blue colours. "The puffed-up dresses are our biggest seller but a lot of girls are going for the red-carpet look. They've seen photos of celebrities arriving at functions and they want the same look.

Bling

"The expense comes not so much in the amount of fabric used but the bead work on the gown.

"Where shoes are concerned, it's a case of the higher, the better, although there is a fashion for Converse with bling for the junior proms because not all the girls can handle the heels. On that one day the girls want to look like princesses, and parents are prepared to pay for that."

The most popular prom vehicle is still a stretched limousine, at an average cost of £200, but this year has seen a move towards flashy sports cars.

Shoes generally cost from £40 to £100, bags £30, hairpieces an average £20 and tiaras costing up to £150.

The cost of tickets can also vary. A sit-down meal at the Moat House in Acton Trussell, is £25 a head. Cannock Chase High School pupils paid £35 for their night at Hawkesyard Hall.

David cooks up win in turkey contest

David Pullin who won first prize in the British Turkey Awards Student Chef of the Year

A CATERING student has won first prize at the 2014 British Turkey Awards Student Chef of the Year cook-off.

David Pullin, aged 17, a catering student at South Staffordshire College's Cannock Campus, picked up first prize for his starter - 'Oasis of the Middle East' - which included a turkey bonbon, yellow split pea hummus, shredded turkey wing in Moroccan style chutney, saffron couscous, Arabic flatbread shard and a mint yoghurt dip.

He will now go on to cook his winning dish for 370 guests at the British Turkey Awards held at The Savoy in September.

In addition to work experience at The Savoy, David wins £300 of catering vouchers and is understandably proud of the award. He said: "I am absolutely thrilled to win this award and would like to thank South Staffordshire College for all the support and encouragement they have provided. Working at The Savoy will be a wonderful opportunity to learn about life in a world-renowned kitchen."

Successful street stalls may become permanent

A WEEKLY street market which was launched for a trial period of six months is poised to become a permanent fixture in Cannock.

The outdoor market has been a huge success since it was unveiled in November, council bosses say. A survey found 82 per cent of shoppers liked it.

Cannock Chase Council's cabinet will discuss the market's future later this month.

But as a result of the positive feedback from shoppers, it is likely members will decide to extend its run.

Council leader George Adamson said: "The majority of people want the market to stay. My personal view is that it appears to have been a success."

"Whenever I go into Cannock on a Friday, it seems to be busy. The report to cabinet gives us three options. "To stop the market, continue it or for it to stay but become less frequent."

The survey, which asked 300 shoppers for their views, also found 27 per cent of people come to the town centre specifically for the outdoor market.

Only five per cent said they did not like it.

The market was introduced at the end of last year to bring much-needed trade into the town centre. Around 20 stalls sell items such as crafts and clothing.

But indoor market stallholders said the outdoor one

By Laura Blyth

had hit their sales since it was launched.

They claimed their sales had slumped by up to 50 per cent since the outdoor one was allowed to set up.

They said some of the newcomers were selling exactly the same produce and were in direct competition.

It emerged last month a huge designer outlet village with more than 100 shops, restaurants and a cinema was planned for Cannock.

The development would create 800 jobs and is being labelled a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for the town.

A total of 130 shops - expected to include big high street names such as Superdry, Paul Smith and Ralph Lauren - would form the development, which has been earmarked for land off Lichfield Road next to Mill Green Nature Reserve.

The plans also feature restaurants, a cinema and a 2,000-space car park.

A sad farewell to two centuries of expertise which helped build town

AS a company which helped put Walsall on the map, saddlers Jabez Cliff had world-beating expertise and the borough is still reeling from the shock of its closure after 221 years.

Jabez Cliff's Barnsby saddles became world famous, a favourite with riders around the world including the Royal Family and the company has held the Royal Warrant since 1990. Handmade Barnsby saddles are also used by The King's Troop Royal Horse Artillery and The Household Cavalry.

Saddlery work will continue at the Aldridge Road factory. It has been bought out of administration by another Walsall saddle company.

Walsall Council leader Mike Bird said: "This is a very old and established business so it is a very sad loss for the town, but this is the economy we are in at the moment and the saddle market is still very competitive."

Aldridge-Brownhills MP Sir Richard

Memory Lane By Simon Penfold

Shepherd said: "I am desperately sad as this is part of the history and grandeur of Walsall and the leather trade. Right at the top was Jabez Cliff."

Walsall North MP David Winnick said: "This is a tough time and everyone will have the utmost feelings for those who are losing their jobs. The Jabez Cliff history in the leather trade dates back to 1793 and George Cliff, who made leather breeches in a small workshop behind his home in Badger's Yard, Park Street in Walsall. One of his sons, also called George, followed his father into the leather trade in 1793, to be followed in turn by his son Jabez."

It was Jabez Cliff who started the saddlery business, in Portland Street, and after his death in a typhoid epidemic his wife and daughter Mary ran it for a year before Mary married a bridlemaker called Frederick Tibbits in 1882. It was their son, Jabez Cliff Tibbits, who turned the business into a major force in the industry.

He joined the family firm in 1902 and four years later he made an audacious, and successful bid to buy the more famous saddle-making company of JA Barnsby & Sons, based at the nearby Globe Works in Lower Forster Street.

The whole business was based at the site from 1910. The business relied on exports to Germany and Russia, but during the First World War diversified into making cricket balls, golf bags and leather cases. As the demand for saddles declined in the age of the motor car, the company continued to adapt.

By the early 1920s Jabez Cliff Tibbits became managing director and continued to oversee growth. The firm's Globe non-tear football was used in four FA Cup Finals and the 1928 Olympic Games.

A mayor of Walsall and an alderman, he was knighted in 1948 for his services to the town. Sir Cliff, as he was known, died in 1974. The company had a tradition of long service. In November 2005 the company closed on a working day for the first time in its history for the funeral of director Oliver Morton.

Mr Morton, who was 90 when he died, started work on the shop floor in 1929, rose through the ranks and became chairman and president of the company.

He stayed on for a quarter of a century after he officially retired. The decision to move came four years later.

The firm's 40-strong workforce was relocated to a converted barn in 2009 and stables, allowing customers more room to park horse boxes outside. The company continued in its new home, but it is understood was weighed down by problems from the property deal.

There was a long delay before the building could be sold and the £1.2 million price was substantially less than had been originally expected. The Globe Works building was subsequently destroyed in a huge blaze in 2011 and later demolished.

Celebrations to mark Brownies' centenary

THEY'VE been promising to do their best for 100 years.

And thousands of Brownies did just that as they celebrated the centenary of the movement's formation.

Across the UK members were marking the milestone, including around 2,000 from Girlguiding West Mercia, which covers Wolverhampton, the Black Country and South Staffordshire, who were at Weston Park for the Big Brownie Birthday.

Another 1,700 from Girlguiding Staffordshire celebrated at the County Showground in Stafford.

At Weston Park, tribute acts to One Direction and Katy Perry performed.

Balloons, in the traditional yellow and brown colours of the organisation, were scattered around the site where performance tents included magic and dance acts as well as an animal display.

Planned

Marion Watkins, county commissioner for Girlguiding West Mercia, said: "This is something that has been planned for around two years and we asked the girls what they wanted to do."

"We had all sorts of suggestions from music from One Direction to a trip to Japan."

"There will only be one occasion to celebrate a 100th birthday so we wanted to make it extra special."

Other activities included a yoga tent and kick boxing sessions.

The Brownies were formed in 1914 as a junior section to the Girl Guides. They were originally called Rosebuds but this changed to the current name in 1915. Deputy regional chief commissioner Dee Miles, who has been involved in the Girl Guides for more than 40 years, said: "There are 155,000 girls on the waiting list to be a member of the Brownies and the problem isn't getting enough girls it is getting the volunteers."

Gill Slocombe, who is the chief guide for the UK, spoke of the importance of the Brownies.

She said: "It is an opportunity for these girls to develop and I think it is brilliant that they are socialising and discovering the world. It is significant what it does for young children and it is unique and they can learn how people are and how other people love and that's very important. Across the UK about 50 per cent of adult women have been involved in the girl guides."

In Stafford the theme of event was to display the past, present and future of the Brownies as members travelled through three time zones.

Claire Keen, a Brown Owl for Stockton in Staffordshire, said: "There were around 1,700 Brownies and about 400 adults. It was a great day."

Japan

Japan – an ancient culture of emperors, fierce shoguns, samurais and brutal martial arts. Yet it's also a place of gentle geishas, colourful kimonos, exquisite garden design and Zen Buddhism.

The tour covers three of Japan's capitals, both past and present: Tokyo, Kyoto and Nara.

There's the chance to ride on a high speed bullet train past iconic Mt. Fuji, a trip by aerial gondola to see the Owakudani 'Boiling Valley' and the option to stay at a typical Japanese inn, bathe in a hot spring, and see the spot where the first atom bomb was detonated.

In Tokyo see its most fascinating districts, including the shopping and entertainment mecca of Ginza and the Akihabara electronic town – home to one of the first stores devoted to personal robots. Then to the north of the city there's the scenic area Nikko National Park, relatively unknown outside Japan. Surrounded by breathtaking lakes, waterfalls, forests and hot springs, a visit is made to one of the country's most extraordinary shrines – dedicated to one of its great Shogun warriors.

Kyoto, still considered to be its cultural heart has carefully retained far more of historical Japan than any other major city. With exquisite shrines, temples, Zen gardens and traditional handicrafts, the city is an absolute treasure-trove.

Nara, Japan's first capital, dates back to the eighth century. Here, traditional culture first took root and is famous for its great Buddhist monuments including a large bronze buddha as well as time-honoured festivals.

Hiroshima is forever destined to be synonymous with the world's first use of an atomic bomb and a visit is made to the Peace Memorial Park and museum, with the shattered remains of the nearby dome marking the epicentre of the blast.

On this holiday of a lifetime prepare for wonderful service, the world's politest people and be immersed in this extraordinary culture of contrasts, where the neon lights and gadgetry of huge futuristic cities live side by side with ancient shrines and hot spas.

Kay living life to the full at 95

LADIES PROBUS

CHAIRMAN Pat Stanley welcomed everyone to the meeting at the Barns Restaurant and gave a special welcome to guest speaker Kay Mathews.

Audrey Stamford said Grace after which the ladies enjoyed their luncheon.

After the Loyal Toast Mrs Stanley welcomed Mrs Mathews who, at 95 years young gave a most amusing and interesting talk called "A Ramble through Life."

Mrs Mathews was born into an RAF family where her father had been a Regimental Sergeant Major. Kay grew up and married. She lost her husband in recent years after a very happy marriage and they reared two sons and a daughter.

Kay trained as a nurse and then helped at a family planning clinic for some years. She gave members plenty of laughs during her talk when telling them some of the stories from these years. She was also a Probation Officer for some years.

Sometime ago, Kay did a skydive to raise money for soldiers who had lost their limbs in combat. She now donates all the money she raises from giving talks to these brave young men.

Pat Preece gave the vote of thanks.

Wartime night proves to be a great success

Amusing tales of ex-ambulance man

C T LADIES CLUB

AN amusing and informative talk was given by Mark Brookes to Chase Terrace Ladies on his days in the ambulance service.

He grew up in Lichfield where his father was head gardener at Shugborough Hall working for Lord Lichfield. They were even invited to his wedding.

From there the family moved to a pub, the Gatton Hotel, and then to Great Haywood where he trained as a butcher. He completed a first aid course while working there and that led to him joining St John's Ambulance.

He eventually became an ambulance driver working from Cannock on non-emergency vehicles.

He progressed to being a technician but had to retire when he hurt his back while at work and had to have major surgery. In semi-retirement he spent six years teaching first aid. During his career he had the joy of delivering four babies and had the tragedy of three cot deaths.

One day he was called to the cooling towers at Rugeley Power Station. A man was up one the towers and experiencing chest pains. Mr Brooks explained to the staff they would have to bring the man down as he had no head for heights.

Mr Brookes received the Queen's Golden Jubilee Medal for all his charity work. He was involved in creating the world record for continuous CPR at Asda in Cannock.

The team completed 150 hours and raised £35,000. He still helps out at Stafford and District Stroke Club.

SHARESHILL WI

PRESIDENT Margaret Beddard welcomed members to the club's own Wartime 40s Night.

The Eating Out Club met at The Elms and the village has celebrated the Church Flower Festival, which was a great success. Carol Hood did everyone proud with a beautiful arrangement in the WI window.

An evening of fun started with the game Blow up Hitler, Susan Davidson's version of Beetle. It caused much hilarity. Prizes of bags of dolly mixtures were awarded for the first to finish and also for the best drawing of Hitler. A Second World War and 1940s quiz compiled by the president was followed by a special supper of fish paste, spam and jam sandwiches, jellies, blancmanges and plain biscuits.

While listening to music from the 40s there was time to peruse the items which members had brought along for the exhibition of wartime memorabilia.

Barbara Williams provided a display of items and history concerning soldiers from the village who had fought in wars – many not returning.

Historic church is visited

LANDOR SOCIETY

ON a sunny evening in June, members visited St Lawrence's Church in Gnosall.

The Rev Mark Bridgen welcomed everyone and introduced Norman, the guide for the evening, and his wife Sheila.

Norman was able to show many features of the building and to demonstrate how the church has adapted to the changes over the years. The church has now entered its third Millennium as its foundation lies well before the year 1000AD. Following a stroll around the grounds of the church Norman showed a number of slides which gave more detail of the features he had pointed out on the outside of the building.

The tour was complete when Sheila provided tasty refreshments in the church hall. The July outing will be to Blithfield Hall.

Trustee Michaela Kerr, Councillor Christine Mitchell, Bevin Boy Ossie Cotterell and Phil Harding

TV star at launch of new mine exhibition

TIME Team television favourite Phil Harding officially unveiled a new mining exhibition at the Museum of Cannock Chase.

More than 500 people attended the launch at the Valley Road site in Hednesford with the field archaeologist proving a popular draw.

The new gallery focuses on mining in the Cannock Chase area and features a wooden model of what the museum site looked like when it was the Valley Colliery training pit.

There is also a map of the Cannock Chase area, two listening posts showing films about coal mining and interviews with miners.

But the biggest attraction is a replica coal mine that lets children dress up as pitmen and go into a mine shaft. It shows what an actual coal mine looked and felt like, including a crawl-through tunnel.

Workshops

Visitor service assistant Harriet Green said: "The launch was very popular."

"Phil Harding attracted a lot of people but we also had a lot of regulars including ex-miners who brought their grandchildren along."

"We had a lot of free activities including a puppeteer, craft workshops, story telling and performances from the Tower Players and Rugeley Power Station Brass Band."

"The new exhibition sums up what life as a miner was like - our old gallery was in need of refurbishment and it was installed between November and March."

"It is really interactive and is a great resource for younger people to find out what their parents and grandparents did while working in the coalfields of Cannock Chase."

The gallery - called Mining Moments - was funded by a £97,600 grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund.

An education package will be created to ensure people of all ages get the maximum benefit from their experience at the museum.

Cannock Council cabinet member for culture and sport, Christine Mitchell, said: "The project will ensure that a vital piece of history is available for future generations to learn about the heritage of the district."

Lake Maggiore, Orta and the Matterhorn

Eight days various departure dates

 PRICE FROM £899

This wonderful combination of truly awesome Swiss mountain scenery and the tranquility of the Italian Lakes cries out to be explored.

Just offshore Lake Maggiore is one of the real gems of northern Italy, the Borromean Islands. These were once owned by a Milanese Count, who created an amazing 'belle époque' villa in the 17th century, called Isola Bella. There is a guided tour of the villa, which is simply stunning, and even more impressive are the grounds planted with a host of trees, shrubs and plants.

A private boat journey passing the snowcapped mountains of the Swiss Alps leads to the chic resort of Locarno in Switzerland, with its twisting lanes and alleys of the historic centre. Following some free time here board the narrow gauge Centovalli train for a scenic ride as it winds its way through landscapes, mountain cascades, vines woods and villages with spectacular alpine views across 'One hundred valley's'.

INFO

- Return flights
- Seven nights half board accommodation
- Boat cruise to Locarno
- Journey on the Centovalli railway
- Cruise to Borrowmean islands and entrance to villa and gardens
- Visits to Lake Como and Lake Orta
- Panoramic journey to Zermatt to see the Matterhorn
- Services of a tour manager
- Single rooms subject to availability-supplement applies

Organised by Riviera Travel (ABTA V4744 ATOL 3430)

Perhaps the highlight of the tour will be the journey through the Alps and the Simplon Pass to witness spectacular scenery before arriving at the village of Zermatt. It is here where the Swiss national symbol, the Matterhorn, is revealed in all its glory – truly one of life's 'wow' moments.

Visits are also made to one of Northern Italy's most attractive and famous lakes, Lake Como, plus Lake Orta probably one of the prettiest yet least known of the lakes.

A choice of hotel accommodation is offered in the Italian old town of Stresa, on the shores of Lake Maggiore.

Peru – Inca Treasures, the Amazon and Lake Titicaca

Twelve days various departure dates

 PRICE FROM £2,995

Discover and explore South America's most vibrant and fascinating country on this exciting escorted tour.

The holidays begins in Lima, where an included guided tour introduces this historic coastal settlement, rich with echoes of its colonial past. One of South America's cultural and culinary capitals, the city buzzes with life by day and by night.

Fly east to the Amazonian region of Madre de Dios, where Puerto Maldonado is the gateway to the vast Tambopata wilderness and Biosphere Reserve. A two-night stay in the remote Inkaterra Hacienda jungle lodge offers the opportunity to learn about the Amazonian Rain Forest and to enjoy encounters with colourful birds and other wildlife, before flying to Cuzco, the 'Imperial City', of the Inca Civilisation.

Experience three unforgettable nights here and enjoy a guided tour of the city plus two days discovering the 'misty mountain-top' citadel of Machu Picchu, one of the true wonders of the world.

The tour concludes with a journey across the 'Altiplano' plateau to the shores of Lake Titicaca, where the Uros people have lived for centuries.

Following eight years of extensive research into what the public wants from the "perfect" salon, research into the best professional brands and the best services, Crayg Ward Hair Clinic and Beauty Therapy opened in the landmark building formerly owned by Musically Yours in Walsall Road, Cannock. The ribbon was cut in March by Councillor Sheila Cartwright.

The salon, which was designed to the smallest detail by the results of the public research, offers unique products and services. Crayg Ward is the only fully disabled access salon for miles around. It is the only Framesi exclusive salon in the UK and the only beauty salon to offer spa quality treatments in a spa quality beauty zone. In addition, Crayg Ward is the only salon to offer a clinic service which can diagnose and treat hair and scalp disorders. Its nail technician is one of the top technicians in Britain, being finalist for Nail Professional of the Year three years in a row and has been published in top industry magazines with her work being on the cover three times.

Crayg Ward is the only salon to open seven days a week with four late nights.

Since opening, Crayg Ward Salon has worked with hairdressing ambassador Anne Veck London to prepare actors, actresses, dancers, ballet dancers and a choir for a gala event for the Almeida Theatre following the success of their play King Charles III.

Salon staff are also raising money to help the family of Joshua Morgan as he goes into the rehabilitation centre which will help towards the cost of his treatment in the centre until he comes out of his coma. Proprietor Crayg and his team will be participating in the city-wide zombie quest known as "2.8 hours later" for this cause.

Strictly duo show class

The Stars of Strictly Come Dancing, Prince of Wales Centre, Cannock IT wasn't just the big names from the hit BBC show that wowed the crowd on this night with the Stars of Strictly.

Katya Virshilas and Pasha Kovalev were joined by Ryan Hammond, winner of the 2013 South African version and James Wilson, a contestant on the Turkish equivalent. Marcella Solimeo and Jasmine Takacs made up the first class troupe.

While the Strictly duo proved hot stuff, Rugeley's Class One Academy showed they could be stars of the future with their impressive routines.

Compere Mike Newman kept proceedings moving in a night that was as well-rehearsed as the moves were choreographed. All the big dances were included, the samba, rumba, waltz and paso doble, while a Queen medley was outstanding, as was the charleston, performed by the co-dancers.

Most of the audience were women wishing to get close to Mr Kovalev – and three did just that as he made their night by dancing with them on stage.

There was a question and answer session, while the stars took time out to meet fans at the end. Strictly speaking, it was simply terrific.

Rock legend Plant plans a homecoming Civic Hall gig

Wicked musical fun in Oz

MEGA musical Wicked arrives in the West Midlands next week for a summer-long stay at Birmingham Hippodrome as part of its first UK tour.

A prequel to The Wizard of Oz which looks at the ill-fated college friendship between Glinda the Good and the Wicked Witch of the West, the witty show is based on the novel by Gregory Maguire and features songs by Stephen Schwartz, including the classic Defying Gravity. It opened in the West End in 2006 and is still running at the Apollo Victoria, whilst the Broadway version is celebrating ten years.

The touring production that runs in Birmingham from Wednesday, July 9, to September 6 has Nikki Davis-Jones in the green makeup as Elphaba, Emily Tierney as the ever Popular Glinda and Liam Doyle as Fiyero.

It's good fairy versus not-so-wicked witch, Emily Tierney and Nikki Davis-Jones

ROCK legend Robert Plant will be returning to the Black Country for a homecoming gig.

The Led Zeppelin frontman will perform at Wolverhampton Civic Hall on November 21 as part of a 13-date tour with his band The Sensational Space Shifters.

It comes after an acclaimed sell-out gig at the same venue last September.

The run of shows, which includes dates in London, Leeds, Glasgow and Dublin, will follow the release of Plant's latest album Lullaby and the Ceaseless Roar. A new single, Rainbow, will be released this summer.

Glastonbury

Avid Wolves fan and vice-president of the Molineux club, Plant played the Glastonbury Festival last weekend with a performance on the famous Pyramid Stage.

Plant's new self-produced album, recorded with The Sensational Space Shifters, features nine original songs. More than 3,000 fans flocked to the last Civic gig by Plant, once voted the 'greatest voice in rock'. He delighted Led Zeppelin fans by playing several classic songs by the iconic group, including Whole Lotta Love.

Plant, along with bandmates Jimmy Page, John Paul Jones and John Bonham, formed the group in 1969 and had seven number one albums, making such rock anthems as Kashmir and Stairway to Heaven.

Last month the legendary band's first three albums were reissued in remastered form.

In recent years the 65-year-old has become a hugely successful solo artist, while a link-up with bluegrass star Alison Krauss saw them win several Grammy awards.

Tickets for the Civic show cost £49.50.

Review

Yes, we all still care

20th Century Boy, Grand Theatre, Wolverhampton WILL anybody ever care? Well the answer was a resounding Yes on the opening night of 20th Century Boy.

Those words came from one of the final songs and the reaction proved that even 37 years after the death of the legendary Marc Bolan he will never be forgotten.

The music of T Rex lives on in this show which tells the story of his life, and tragic early death at the age of 29 in a car crash, through the eyes of the young son whom he never really got to know.

It takes us on a roller-coaster journey with him and tells of Marc's struggles with himself and how his determination to be 'bigger than Elvis' saw him give up on many of his values and friends in his quest for stardom.

The humour is interspersed with anguish, Marc torn between two women he loves who watch his life spiral out of control and his lover Gloria, mother of his son Bolan, who still blames herself for his death as she was driving the car.

Lead Warren Sollars sounded like Bolan and all the voices were good, in particular Donna Hines as Gloria. A superb show so Get It On and book your ticket before Saturday.

Ben Shepherd

Tipping Point: Lucky Stars
(ITV, 7.30pm)

We know what you're thinking: where can we find a show that will fill a dead hour on a Saturday night? One that will hopefully feature Carol Vorderman, that bloke who plays Emmerdale's Marlon Dingle, and if we're really lucky, I'm a Celebrity... Get Me Out of Here! veteran Joe Swash? Well, the search ends here as soap star Mark Charnock and all of the above will be taking part in the strangely addictive, Penny Falls-style show. There's a cool £20,000 up for grabs for one of the celebs' chosen charities, but which of them will be able to ensure the most amount of counters fall? The answer will be revealed before the end of the show by host Ben Shepherd.

Pick of the Week

Johnjo falls foul of the Joint Enterprise law

There are just a handful of writers working in British TV whose name makes viewers sit up and take notice. Arguably at the front of that list is Jimmy McGovern, who began his small screen career by penning episodes of Brookside, which was set in his home city of Liverpool.

Since then he's won numerous plaudits for such acclaimed programmes as Cracker, The Lakes, The Street, Hillsborough, Sunday and Accused.

Now McGovern is back with Common, a one-off, feature-length drama that is sure to provoke plenty of chat around watercooler across the nation – and may even spark further debate in more lofty settings.

Like much of his previous work, it's set in the north west of England. At the centre of the tale is Common Purpose, a 300-year-old legal doctrine that allows several people to be charged with a crime where they are not the primary offenders.

It has been increasingly used in the last 10 years to tackle crimes, often murder, which are deemed to be gang-related.

"Joint Enterprise was first used in Britain's courts a few hundred years ago," explains McGovern. "It was designed to stop the aristocracy duelling. If one duelist killed another then all involved in that duel (the seconds and the surgeons) were charged with murder. It worked. Britain's aristocrats stopped duelling."

"Now the law is being used against Britain's youth. If someone dies in a fight and you're involved in any way whatsoever, you could find yourself charged with murder. And, if you do, Heaven help you because the burden of proof required in joint enterprise cases is frighteningly low."

The BBC's controller of drama commissioning, Ben Stephenson, adds: "Common is an ambitious and controversial film. Much in the same way as Hillsborough and Sunday, Jimmy wanted to write this film after talking to the families of those directly affected by the joint enterprise law."

"We believe it is right for the BBC to give writers such as Jimmy an opportunity to tell a story like this, and to allow the audience to make up their own minds about it."

McGovern has certainly attracted a great cast – the likes of Nico Mirallegro, Daniel Mays, Jodhi May, Robert Pugh, Michael Gambon and Michelle Fairley.

"When it comes to casting you always have a wish list – a list of actors who'd be perfect for the parts you have written," says McGovern.

"You never get them of course. They're often too busy or away on holiday or they hate the script or whatever. But on this occasion, I got them all, every single one on my wish list. And I am over the moon."

The Village star Mirallegro heads the cast as 17-year-old Johnjo, who gives his cousin Tony and some mates a lift, supposedly so they can get a pizza.

But what Johnjo is totally unaware of is their real intention is to confront somebody they've had an argument with earlier.

Things soon get out of hand – and in the ensuing melee, an innocent bystander is fatally stabbed – and Johnjo finds himself charged with murder along with everyone else.

Nico Mirallegro stars in Common, Sunday, BBC1, 9pm

We'll get a chance to see how the master carpenter is getting on with George's garden room this week. But of most interest are the latest builds. Vauxhall marking 10 years of hot VXR brand with VXR8 GTS

Vauxhall's VXR brand has come of age in 2014 with the latest addition of the mighty VXR8 GTS marking 10 years since the VXR brand made its debut on UK shores.

With total sales now exceeding 20,000, the VXR range has been embraced by UK car enthusiasts, who have built up a loyal following to the brand.

As a result, Britain has always been the leading market in Europe for Vauxhall/Opel performance cars, known as OPCs in other countries.

There are currently five cars in Vauxhall's VXR range: the Corsa VXR, the 210PS Corsa VXR ClubSport, the 280PS Astra VXR, the 325PS Insignia VXR and the 576PS VXR8 GTS.

With a combined power output of nearly 1,600PS, there are few performance car ranges that offer so much power per pound.

The first cars to bear the VXR nameplate were the VXR220 and the Monaro VXR, both of which were launched at the British Motor Show in Summer 2004.

Makeovers

Number One VXR220 still resides in Vauxhall's Heritage Centre, while the Monaro VXR – '...a true rear-wheel drive car for enthusiasts' – was 40 per cent cheaper than a BMW 6-series at launch, yet developed 330PS from its 5.7-litre V8 engine. But sports cars and rear-drive coupes haven't been the only models subjected to VXR makeovers.

The Zafira and Meriva MPVs were unlikely candidates, but proved that up to 240PS in a front-wheel drive people-carrier needn't be an unruly experience. Chassis development at the Nord-schleife helped, as did a raft of cabin upgrades, including Recaro front seats.

More recently, models like the Astra VXR and Corsa VXR ClubSport have adopted sophisticated differential technology to cater for ever-increasing power outputs.

Manufactured by Drexler, the units help power to be applied more effectively through bends, giving the impression that the driver is being pulled towards the apex under power. And technological innovation is now the VXR bedrock. Torque Vectoring and magnetorheological damping (VXR8 GTS), adaptive all-wheel drive (Insignia VXR), FlexRide adaptive damping (Astra and Insignia VXR), as well as generous levels of standard equipment in all VXRs have made the range a firm favourite with British enthusiasts.

This year also marks the anniversaries of two iconic performance Vauxhalls that never wore the VXR badge. Launched in 1989, both the Calibra and Lotus Carlton are now celebrating their first quarter-century.

The Calibra was unveiled at the Frankfurt show, and with a Cd of just 0.26, it became the most aerodynamic car in its class, which when combined with up to 200bhp and all-wheel drive in later models, made it a credible rival for cars like the Sierra Cosworth and Lancia Delta Integrale. The Calibra was produced until 1996, by which time over 40,000 had found homes in the UK.

More than 65 years after producing Britain's first 100mph road car, Vauxhall proved that it was still adept at causing a stir in the performance car world when it launched the fastest four-door saloon in the world: the Lotus Carlton.

With 377bhp from its twin-turbocharged, straight-six engine, Vauxhall's super-saloon could crack 176mph and accelerate from 0-62mph in 5.4 seconds. And with a chassis developed with Lotus Engineering, the Lotus Carlton was an assured and finely balanced car that was equally adroit on fast British A-roads or belting along de-restricted Autobahns.

And 25 years on, perhaps the Lotus Carlton has finally met its match with the latest VXR8 GTS... Either way, the VXR range continues to go from strength to strength.

Jaguar puts on the style with move to new territory

By James Parker

Remember the days when shooting brakes shed their country image and became estate cars, often the preserve of the travelling salesman?

Many companies tried to widen and upgrade their appeal by applying names such as tourer, but Audi really shattered the image and set a new trend with its powerful RS6 Avant: a very sporty transporter for the family or businessman.

Now Jaguar has entered this rarified area of the market with its Sportbrake XFR-S, an estate version of its highly successful XF and the flagship model powered by a five-litre, 550PS V8 with performance figures putting it in supercar territory.

At £82,495 it certainly isn't bargain basement, but then it is pretty exclusive territory with its few rivals including, of course, the Audi, the Mercedes 63AMG and the BMW M Sport 535i.

It shouldn't be a surprise to see the V8 powering the flagship Sportbrake, as this Jaguar Land Rover engine already powers a number of top-of-the-range petrol models such as the Range Rover Sport.

It will, if its rivals are anything to go by, win sales in this country but will probably be even more popular in JLR's big markets where petrol still holds sway over diesel, such as the United States.

It's the only petrol option in the Sportsbrake range, the other options being a 2.2-litre four-cylinder and 3.0 V6 diesel. Prices start from £31,945.

The XF saloon and the Sportsbrake have been steadily filling up the Midlands company's trophy cabinet with awards ranging from best tow car from the premium sector to best executive car, and have helped Jaguar to win J.D. Power 'best brand' honour for the third consecutive year.

The V8 powerplant, in a relatively light car (despite its size), gives performance aplenty. The 550PS of power and, thanks to supercharging, a whopping 680Nm of torque mean a 0 to 60mph sprint time of just 4.6 seconds.

If it were legal, you could go on to a top speed which is electronically limited at 185mph.

There is a price to pay in terms of economy, naturally. The average fuel consumption figure is 22.2mpg and the CO2 emissions rating is 297g/km.

Smooth

But as the old song says, it's not what you do it's the way that you do it. The power and torque mean a smooth, linear but press-you-back-in-the-seat wave of acceleration from the word go.

It comes with a bass growl you'd expect – nay, demand – from a big V8 but in normal road cruising it's barely ticking over and so consequently is quiet and refined.

Sports suspension means its ride is a little firmer, but necessarily so, than its lesser-powered rivals but feels wonderfully agile and grippy. The steering is sharp and accurate, and the car feels beautifully balanced so you can handle the corners and achieve some impressive A to B speeds without breaking the limit.

There's a lot of under-the-skin technology helping you out, of course, from stability and cornering brake controls to adaptive dynamics and Jaguar's drive control which alters for example, steering, throttle and gearbox responses when you select the sport, winter or dynamic modes.

The Sportbrake has sleek, elegant looks with the extra bit on the back complementing, rather than detracting from, the appeal of the XF saloon. It also helps fuel efficiency and cuts its way through the air with little wind noise.

Transmitting all that power to the rear wheels is Jaguar's familiar eight-speed automatic gearbox, which produces very fast shifts and impressively smooth progress up or down the ratios.

It also has a sequential shift system (flappy paddles) for manual gear changing when you feel the need: in such a smooth and refined car this can be useful for speed control, particularly on steep inclines to avoid an appearance on candid camera.

The main reason for choosing the flagship Sportsbrake over its saloon sibling the XFR-S (which is £2,500 cheaper) is, naturally enough, space and versatility. If you're in the market for a car in this price range, you'd probably expect to pay a bit more for the convenience of somewhere to carry bikes, the family dog or the thousand and one things that go with transporting children.

As the standard bearer of the range the V8's interior gets the premium treatment with top quality carpets, plus soft leather tailored around the instrument panel and door top rolls with contrasting stitching (blue to match the test car's body colour) which adds a sporting but still restrained touch.

The leather front seats can be both heated and cooled, and that's as well as the automatic climate control. The car naturally has the full range of active and passive safety systems to protect the driver and passengers

Acorn Kia winner announced

One lucky customer at Acorn Kia has just been announced as the winner of vouchers worth up to £250 to spend in John Lewis.

Mrs Christine Smith managed to win the generous prize draw after taking part in Kia's Customer Satisfaction surveys.

To maintain high levels of service across its dealer network Kia approaches its customers to determine just how well they were served and treated after they've had their cars maintained or repaired using the services of their Kia main dealer.

Like many customers at Acorn Kia, Mrs Smith provided useful feedback on her survey form, the results of which are carefully analysed to ensure that dealers are performing well and up to the mark. Every customer who contributes to these surveys is entered into a prize draw to win exciting prizes, and Mrs Smith emerged as a winner of John Lewis vouchers worth £250.

Acorn Kia service advisor, Jo Maddox said: "It's really exciting to have a winner amongst our customers and we congratulate Mrs Smith on her good fortune. Every customer is precious to us and we take pride in the fact that we consistently perform strongly in the Customer Satisfaction Index (CSI) surveys. Customer care has always been paramount at Acorn Kia and we work hard to achieve a great result."

Mrs Smith was recently handed her vouchers by John Abnett, managing director at the dealership on Cannock Road, Chase Terrace in Burntwood.

Venture is capital idea to put a smile on your face

By James Parker

A high-end MX-5 special edition, the Sport Venture stands out with its light gunmetal 17in alloy wheels; black, heated leather seats and satnav, a model which keeps a tried-and-tested formula fresh. It is available with both 1.8 and 2.0-litre engines with the metal-folding-roof Roadster-Coupe body style.

Sales of this variant have dropped off in recent times as the market for small cabrios has swelled with new arrivals, but Mazda is fighting back with keen value for money, sticking to a design philosophy that's even more relevant now than when the MX-5 was first launched in the UK, 20 years ago.

Indeed, the brand's use of lightweight construction and fuel-efficient engines has been copied by many rivals looking to share its success.

The Sport Venture special edition is offered with a choice of 126PS 1.8-litre power or a 160PS 2.0-litre unit in Roadster Coupe guise. Just the smaller engine is used in the soft top variant.

Neither powerplant makes the car the last word in searing pace but you can get to 62mph in 9.9 seconds with the 1.8 and 7.9 seconds with the 2.0-litre. Straight line speed was never what the MX-5 was about, instead majoring on tactility, usability, comparatively modest grip levels and a chassis that's helped generations of drivers get to grips with rear-wheel drive dynamics.

Both engines are plenty fast enough to extract some enjoyment from the MX-5's sweet chassis.

The metal folding roof retracts in three sections with no impact on boot space. Although it's tempting to think of this car as 'just a roof', a lot of thought has clearly gone into it. The spring and damper settings are subtly revised to take account of the hard top car's marginally altered weight distribution. Thankfully, the roof retracts to a position within the wheelbase of the car so that it doesn't detract too much from handling agility.

Subtle

Park the Roadster Coupe and the MX-5 soft top next to each other and it's possible to see the subtle way in which Mazda has teased out the shape to accommodate the folding roof. The rear deck of the car sits 40mm higher at the rear window line and 20mm higher at the trailing edge of the boot, giving it a slightly more hunched and powerful look than the soft top. It's really a very minor change and tough to discern in isolation.

Whereas the average duration for a roof operation of this kind tends to be around 22 seconds, Mazda has whittled that time back to a mere 12 seconds for the MX-5 Roadster Coupe. The driver must unlatch a centre lock and then press a button to operate the roof but it can easily be done while waiting at lights. Boot capacity is a surprisingly usable 150-litres whether the roof is up or down.

With the 1.8-litre Roadster Coupe version of this special edition offered at around £21,000, you're looking at a premium of around £1,800 over the standard range model. There's also a 160PS 2.0-litre petrol option. The soft-top MX-5 Sport Venture costs around £19,000, around £500 more than the standard SE model.

The exterior features paint finishes that are unique to this model plus bright silver door trims and unique exterior badging to create a highly distinctive appearance.

Other standard kit runs to stainless steel scuff plates, body-coloured door handles, side, driver and passenger airbags, a CD radio with six speakers, electric windows, electric adjustable mirrors with heating function and climate control air-conditioning.

For optimum handling stability, all MX-5 models also feature dynamic stability control and traction control system.

The car's handling remains as much fun as ever, it offers decent value for money and will paint a huge smile on your face.

NOTICE TO READERS

Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with its Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree. Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Back Irvine Bomber tells fans

ALBION legend Tony Brown has sent a rallying call for the club to back new boss Alan Irvine with more signings like Joleon Lescott.

Brown called on fans to put aside their doubts – and on the club to give Irvine the players to help him succeed.

Fans reacted with fury when the Baggies chose the former Preston and Sheffield Wednesday boss as Pepe Mel's successor.

But 'Bomber' Brown, the club's record goalscorer and appearance-maker, said: "Supporters are not there to pick the manager. The club has picked him and he's taken a lot of stick but it's not his fault he's been given the job."

"We've just got to get behind him as a club."

Scott could save Wolves millions

WOLVES' chief talent spotter Stuart Weber, who has led a transformation of the club's scouting operation, believes his academy counterpart Kieran Scott is the key component who could end up saving the club a fortune.

The process has already begun to bear fruit, with the £200,000 acquisition of 19-year-old Lee Evans from Newport County in January 2013 now looking a bargain.

Other similar-aged signings have been snapped up such as Eusebio Bancessi, Carlo Erdel, Albert Torras and Bradley Reid last

Football

August and Kortney Hause from Wycombe in January.

"Kieran's remit is probably more important than mine, in terms of the long-term stability of the club," said Webber, who made his name as Liverpool's academy recruitment director before his appointment at Molineux via QPR in January 2013.

"Kieran has to bring in players to potentially save the club money at the top end, but also players who have come in at such an age that they're part of the club, understand the make-up of it, know the people and care for the club.

"Kieran has done a great job since he came in, as have all the scouts, including the eight part-time scouts who are the unsung heroes really, out and about every weekend and midweek.

"For us as a department probably the pinnacle in terms of what people see is who we sign for the first team. But there is a bigger picture of also filling the Under-21 group up and the 18s and the 16s.

"The ideal situation for us is we don't sign a player at first-team level, he comes up through the academy or Under-21s. That's the aim of our model."

Webber revealed that, far from being about to hit the beaches at this time of year, Scott's department are entering their most critical period of the year.

"All the tournaments are starting now and players are out of contract from other clubs who we can start talking to," he said.

"And from our Under-21s group a lot of those lads have gone into the first-team set-up so there's a need to replace those players as well."

New coach Bell given a Fair deal of help

CANNOCK Hockey Club have announced the appointment of their new coaching team for the forthcoming Now Pensions National Premier League 2014/15 season.

Former International Player and EHB Performance coach John Bell will take the reins as head coach with immediate effect.

The Hockey Association announced that London 2012 Olympic Goalkeeper James Fair will be his assistant.

Bell, a vastly experienced coach, both domestically and internationally, is relishing this return to the Premier League after a year away from National Competition whilst assisting in the England Under-21 Men's World Cup campaign. "I'm truly excited about the challenge ahead and already feel proud to be associated with Cannock Hockey, a club with an amazing history," he said.

Demanding

Bell added: "James Fair, with his vast international experience will add real value to our coaching team and I look forward to working with him and a talented group of players, through what will be a demanding, but hopefully a successful season and future for the club."

It is a step onto new ground for Fair who is beginning his first National League coaching appointment, after stepping down as an international player, and one he is relishing.

"I am excited about the challenge of working with a group of athletes that I have previously played with," he

Cup holders have also announced

said. "I am also looking forward to working with John Bell who will open my eyes to a different style of play and give me the opportunity to develop my skills as a coach."

Club chairman Greg Bloomer said: "This is excellent news for the club. It is another sign of our desire and determination to remain at the highest level of national hockey and make a return to the top of the European game.

"John is without doubt the coach to lead this club forward, and in James we have a true club man who will bring undoubted value to our squad and our club."

The coaching team will also be enhanced with the appointment of a first team manager, a physiotherapist, a video analysis coach and a strength and conditioning coach.

Pre-season strength and condition training has already begun as the squad looked to push on from last season.

Any players wishing to join Cannock Hockey Club can make contact through the website at www.cannockhockey.org

Nine goals in nine minutes from number nine

THERE is no de-nine-ing it, a young Rugeley football team have pulled off a remarkable feat of goalscoring.

The team from Chase View Primary School took part in the Festival of Sport and Enjoyment at Rugeley Leisure Centre with other local primary schools.

They were part of a six-a-side football tournament at the Burnthill

Lane venue where the games were nine minutes long and while playing Hazel Slade, they won 9-0.

While scoring nine goals in nine minutes is in itself an excellent achievement, what was more remarkable was that all of the goals were scored by the same player, Reiss Walters who was wearing the No.9 shirt. The 10-year-old's goals came from long range shots to finishing off passing moves from team mates.

A spokesman for the Hillary Crest school said: "Reiss along with the other members of the school team have had a terrific season and although they were not overall winners last week they did really well and look forward to achieving even more next year."

Jackett calling for squad to be fit

KENNY Jackett is challenging his Wolves squad to become the "fittest and hungriest" in the Championship.

The Molineux head coach welcomed the players back for the start of pre-season training last week.

And Jackett believes his players reaching the highest level of fitness is going to be the key if Wolves are to enjoy another promotion challenge in one of the most gruelling leagues of all.

"Everyone's had a good break but we're all ready now and looking forward to getting back to work to try to be one of the fittest and hungriest sides in the league," said the boss.

"We have some hard work to do, to get our heads down to make sure we're fit and prepared for the Championship.

"Every bit of advantage we can gain by using the confidence and momentum from last season we have to try to use.

"There is expectation at every club and nobody here is frightened of the potential of the club.

"But equally we know we have to roll our sleeves up and earn every point we get.

"We're delighted to be back and we're looking forward very much to the Division is very even, says boss

KENNY JACKETT has tipped fellow promoted sides Rotherham and Brentford to be surprise challengers next season as he predicted an "open" Championship.

The Millers, who went up through the play-offs, have added six new faces already this summer and hope to sign three more, with Scott Loach, Mat Sadler, Kirk Broadfoot, Matt Derbyshire, Wolves target Conor Newton and record signing from Villa Jordan Bowery recruited.

Wolves boss Jackett said: "Quite early on we go to Rotherham and they'll surprise a few people. That will be a tough place to go. I also think Rotherham and Brentford coming up can surprise people."

Okore out to seize chance to impress

VILLA defender Jores Okore says he intends to make up for lost time next season – and prove Paul Lambert was right to buy him.

The 21-year-old, who joined from Danish side Nordsjaelland last summer, had his season cut short after just four Villa appearances when he ruptured his anterior cruciate ligament.

Okore underwent surgery and missed the remainder of a campaign which saw Villa limp home in 15th place after another worrying battle for survival.

It's left Lambert under pressure after a season which saw many of last summer's recruits fail to shine and Okore is counting down the days until he can prove his worth.

"It's about next season for me. That's my focus. I am looking forward to that. I can't wait. It can't come quick enough," he says.

"It will be the coming season when I get my big chance again to prove myself. I want to show what I can do.

"The manager has been very supportive with me. He bought me – he showed great faith in me and now I want to repay him. "I am so determined to play well and impress."

A night of emotion for Brummies

EMOTIONS were running high around the terraces at Belle Vue as Birmingham made one last valiant stand in the face of their almost certain demise with a 56-39 defeat on Monday.

The Aces were led by newly appointed skipper Scott Nicholls and soon asserted their dominance over the meeting and stretch their lead to 22-8 after just 5 heats.

Brummies duo Ben Barker and Danny King delivered two hard-fought tactical rides to bring the scores up to 39-26 by Heat 10; but in the end it was no avail.

Birmingham 39: Ben Barker 13, Nico Covatti 10+1, Danny King 8+1, Paul Starke 6, Jason Garry 2, Simon Lambert 0, Bartosz Zmarzlik R/R.

Cresswell target for Albion defence

ALBION are targeting Ipswich's Aaron Cresswell as their top left-back target as they look to rebuild their defence for the club readies itself for the start of the Alan Irvine era.

The Baggies want Cresswell to move to The Hawthorns despite the 24-year-old signing a new three-and-a-half-year contract at Portman Road in December last year.

Irvine is without a recognised full-back in his squad just a week before the start of pre-season training with left-backs Liam Ridgwell and Goran Popov departing at the end of last season. They also need to recruit new faces at right-back after Steven Reid was released and Billy Jones made a Bosman switch to Sunderland after rejecting the offer of a new deal with Albion.

Cresswell has been tracked by the Baggies for some time and they are now considering tempting the Tractor Boys with an offer.

But the Scouser is unlikely to come cheap as he is contracted to the Sussex club until 2017 and boss Mick McCarthy is under no pressure to offload the player.

The 5ft 7in defender was first watched by the Baggies when he played for Tramere, who he left in 2011 to move to Ipswich.

He has since made 138 appearances for his current club, and has racked up seven goals.

The Baggies have also made contact with Fulham over 2005 'Great Escape' hero Kieran Richardson, who the Cottagers would consider releasing on a free transfer as they look to slash the wage bill at Craven Cottage. But Cresswell currently appears to be the favoured option. Albion were linked at the weekend with a move for Norwich left-back Martin Olsson, who they enquired about before his move from Blackburn to Carrow Road a year ago, but the Sweden international is not being targeted at the moment.

The Baggies have signed two new faces so far this summer with Craig Gardner and Joleon Lescott arriving as free agents.

They are targeting five more players before the start of the season with Monaco striker Emmanuel Riviere a major target.

Players will be Keane on Roy says Lambert

PAUL LAMBERT hailed his new assistant Roy Keane as a coach his players 'will love working with' as they launched their partnership.

Lambert and Keane headed for a media scrum first to satisfy the huge interest one of the game's most controversial figures continues to generate.

After that came the planning for pre-season in which Keane will now be a major figure following confirmation of his appointment as Lambert's No.2.

It's a role Keane will combine with the same job under former Villa boss Martin O'Neill in the Republic of Ireland camp but there are no fears from Lambert that he will spread himself too thin – or disrupt Villa's training camp with that famous temper.

"Roy has a great knowledge of football, on the coaching side as well, and he'll be a great asset and a big help to everybody here," Lambert said.

Delighted

"I'm really looking forward to working with him and I'm delighted he's here.

"As a player, he was one of the most accomplished in the Premier League and he's brought that experience gained over many years into his career in coaching and management.

"The players will love working with him.

"Although we never played together, we competed against one another and he's someone for whom I have a lot of time and respect. He has worked under some great managers and he'll be a great help to myself as well."

Keane added: "I am de-

lighted to be joining Aston Villa and I look forward to what promises to be an exciting challenge.

"I am grateful to Villa and the Football Association of Ireland for making this happen and I would like also to thank Martin O'Neill.

"I am relishing the prospect of linking up with Paul Lambert and combining both roles to the full advantage of both Villa and Ireland."

Keane began his management career by taking charge of Sunderland in August 2006.

In his first season he led Sunderland to the summit of the Championship.

The Black Cats finished 15th in the Premier League in 2007-08 before Keane's departure in December the following season.

He managed Ipswich from April 2009 to January 2011 before joining the Republic of Ireland as assistant manager to Martin O'Neill.

Keane began his playing career with Cobh Ramblers in Cork and joined Nottingham Forest in 1990, playing 123 times before joining Manchester United for £3.75m in 1993.

Boxing club celebrates a knockout year

Lucy Fletcher, coach Pete Hickenbottom and Luke Palmer

GREAT Wyrley Amateur Boxing Club held its annual end of season exhibition day at a sold out Great Wyrley Sports and Social club.

The club, now in its 16th year, celebrated gaining another year's sponsorship from James Evans Financial Services by putting on 14 quality bouts, topped by a cracking top of the bill charity clash between Dan Clarke and Tim Love, with everyone taking part receiving medals.

Great Wyrley's two boxers of the year were 11-year-old Luke Palmer and 17-year-old Lucy Fletcher, who became only the second female boxer to represent the club.

Coach Pete Hickenbottom said: "The squad of boxers we have at the minute is the largest we've ever had and the atmosphere at the gym is brilliant.

"In fact the numbers we are getting down the gym at the minute is astonishing. If it continues , and it looks like it will with interest in the club and boxing as a whole at an all-time high, we may be looking for bigger premises."

"Both boxers thoroughly deserved their awards but I'm always very proud of all our boxers.

"With the GWABC squad expanding all the time myself and assistant coach Andy Peach are already looking forward to next season."

Purkiss is expecting new-boys to deliver

BEN PURKISS has backed new recruits James O'Connor and Tom Bradshaw to be major players for Walsall next season.

Defender O'Connor and forward Bradshaw, together with young keeper Craig MacGillivray, are the first new faces to be signed up by boss Dean Smith this summer.

The manager is facing something of a rebuilding job having lost influential skipper Andy Butler, while Bradshaw is the first of several attacking players expected to arrive.

Right-back Purkiss believes the pain-staking research carried out by Smith and his staff means they invariably find the right men.

"What I would say about the staff here is that they do their due diligence," he said.

"They look at players' characters, they watch a lot of games and speak to people who know them.

"So I'd expect the signings to be major players if not in the new season then in the very near future.

"I'd expect them to play an important role. It might be too soon for the goalkeeper (MacGillivray) but the other two I'd expect to contribute," added Purkiss.

Archer Pip gets the GB call-up

WEST Midlands archer Pip Taylor has been chosen to shoot for Great Britain next week in the Moscow Youth Cup.

The 17-year-old is one of 29 archers who have been selected to compete in the second leg of competition, which takes place over six days, starting next Monday.

Taylor, the under-18 reserve outdoor and indoor champion who trains with Lichfield Archers, has been selected to shoot for England on seven previous occasions. Sara Symington, Performance Director of Archery GB, said: "We have selected a really strong squad."

Lichfield Archers has had to postpone its beginner's class until September.

Boost for Saddlers as Taylor pens deal

DEFENDER Andy Taylor has handed Walsall a huge boost by signing a new deal.

The 28-year-old left-back has agreed terms on a new contract with the Saddlers following lengthy negotiations.

Taylor, whose old deal expired earlier this week, had been linked with several clubs over the course of the summer but has opted to stay at the Banks's.

The decision will be welcomed by fans and comes at the ideal time for manager Dean Smith with pre-season training now under way.

The manager's summer rebuild now becomes significantly less daunting with Taylor, who made 37 appearances last season, returning to a defence which was among the meanest in League One.

Skipper Andy Butler has been the only unwanted close-season departure.

Taylor has been a regular since joining the Saddlers as a free agent two years ago and won the club's goal of the season award last term.

Sheffield United were the latest club to be linked with him but Smith was confident a deal could be reached.

Smith will now continue his hunt for attacking players as the Saddlers continue preparations for their first friendly, away to a Wigan Athletic XI, on July 11.

Coaches hunt to take weeks

WOLVES are still weeks away from appointing new coaches – as it emerged they want the same coaching style through the club.

Head of football development Kevin Thelwell and academy manager Gareth Prosser have drawn up a shortlist to replace Under-21s coach Steve Weaver and Under-18s coach Mick Halsall.

Head coach Kenny Jackett, who is taking up to 50 senior professionals in training with assistant Joe Gallon and youth coach Sean Parrish, believes Wolves are still some way off announcing replacements.

But the desire for a 'through line' of approach from Jackett downwards could have been a factor in the departures of Weaver and Halsall.

"It's going to be weeks rather than days, I'd think," said Jackett.

Parra will not replace Sako, says Jackett

KENNY JACKETT says Wolves new boy Rajiv Van La Parra will challenge rather than replace Bakary Sako – as he set the latter a double figures goals target.

The Molineux head coach is relishing working with Sako again while indicating snapping up long-term target Van La Parra was too good an opportunity to turn down.

Asked if the flying Dutchman was signed as a replacement for Sako, who is expected to attract interest again this summer, Jackett said: "No that's not the case – we don't think so."

"We tracked Van La Parra for while and we think with him being out of contract it was too good an opportunity not to take him.

"It leaves us with four good wide players, and in terms of scoring and creating goals, that's quite exciting."

"They're different types – Van La Parra has a lot of pace, Sako's game is about pace and power, and perhaps James Henry and Michael Jacobs have more football in them, certainly coming inside there's a lot of perception in their play. So there's a good balance between the four of them and I'm very excited about our wide options – they're very good."

Sako was Wolves' joint top scorer with 13 goals last season after hitting nine in his maiden English campaign in the Championship in 2012-13, and Jackett believes he can hit double figures again.

"Sako got nine goals in his first year in the Championship and that's where he's looking – nine goals plus," he said.

"He has a lot of power, particularly in his left foot and I want to get Sako into shooting positions as much as we possibly can."

"There's been no interest in Sako, but as July and August builds up, we'll see. I'm sure that will be the case right around the country."

"Personally I was very pleased he stayed and he did well and I think he's happy here. I don't think he's unhappy."

"He's been very genuine and honest with what he wants to do. I'm looking forward to working with him again. He's done very well and long may it continue."

Meanwhile, another winger, Anthony Forde, has been linked with a move to relegated League One club Stevenage.

Jones gets Hamilton in first round

WOLVERHAMPTON'S Wayne Jones has been drawn against Andy Hamilton in the World Matchplay first round.

Jones, a 500-1 outsider for the tournament with sponsors BetVictor, will take on the number eight seed at Blackpool's Winter Gardens this month.

The 49-year-old, nicknamed the Wanderer, reached the quarter-finals of the event in 2010.

Reigning champion Phil Taylor will once again be the man to beat as he bids for his 15th World Matchplay title.

Taylor is unbeaten in Blackpool since 2007 after winning a record six successive titles and takes on qualifier Darren Webster in the first round.

"I know Darren really well and it will be a tough game," said Taylor.

"I've got three weeks until the tournament now and I'll be putting in a lot of hard work, because I know I need to."

"I've got to improve my game if I'm going to keep this title because it's such a strong field this year, and if you're not at your best you'll be going home."

Squad will be a threat, says Mick

MICK McCarthy greeted Wolves' return to the Championship by tipping his old club to be a "threat" next season.

The former Molineux boss believes the momentum from last season's League One title success will stand Kenny Jackett's side in good stead as they prepare for a return to the second tier.

The Chronicle, a Midland News Association Ltd publication, printed by the company at Ketley, Telford, Thursday, July 3

BOSS LAYS DOWN DAVIS CHALLENGE

THE gauntlet has been thrown down to David Davis to avoid becoming the forgotten man at Wolves.

The challenge comes as the club delayed a decision on loaning out Zeli Ismail.

Davis, who is into the final year of his contract, lost his way after starting last season as a first choice under head coach Kenny Jackett.

Smethwick-born Davis found himself down the pecking order below less experienced youngsters Jack Price and Lee Evans alongside player of the year Kevin McDonald.

But Jackett insisted it is not too late for the 23-year-old Molineux academy graduate to grab his place back.

"He started last season but lost his place and other people developed," said the boss.

"But we've started again, everyone has their front foot on the line and David is one of them, definitely."

"It's a fresh season and a new chance."

Decision

"He's been very well thought of in his years here but just unfortunately lost his place. It's about how he reacts now."

While Wolves have put a decision over Ismail on hold, they will allow Anthony Forde to leave on loan.

Burton Albion, where 20-year-old Ismail impressed from January to May, want to take him back on a temporary basis.

Ismail and Forde have a year left on their contracts but Jackett wants to give the former a chance to impress at Wolves in pre-season.

"My thoughts are to have a look at Zeli in pre-season and do some work with him," said the boss. "I haven't set a deadline, but I'll assess it, make sure he gets the games he needs and doesn't stay here floating around the edge of it."

Forde was linked with League Two side Stevenage at the weekend as they look to replace Luke Freeman, who has joined Bristol City.

Meanwhile Wolves outcasts Roger Johnson and Jamie O'Hara have been told there is no way back after being banished from first-team pre-season training again.

Jackett confirmed the unwanted players will be separated from the senior group this summer.

"We're expecting Roger back next week but he won't be training with the first-team group," said Jackett.

O'Hara posted a picture on Instagram, depicting the 'academy 5' dressing room where he has been sent to train, saying #headsgone.

Jackett responded: "He won't be training with the first team when we start."

"Jamie's available for anybody who wants him. He needs that next stage of his career."

Clubs rings changes with Bell appointment

Cannock chairman Greg Bloomer welcomes new head coach John Bell to Chase Park

FORMER England coach John Bell has been appointed head coach of Cannock.

Bell will take the reins with immediate effect as the club prepares for the 2014-15 National Premier League season.

The Hockey Association Cup holders have also named London 2012 Olympic goalkeeper and former Can-nock player James Fair as Bell's assistant.

Bell, who is a vastly experienced coach both domestically and internationally, is relishing the return to the Premier League after a year away assisting in the England Under-21 men's World Cup campaign.

"I'm truly excited about the challenge ahead and already feel proud to be associated with Cannock Hockey, a club with an amazing history," said Bell.

It will be Fair's first National League coaching appointment since stepping down as an international.

"I am excited about the challenge of working with a group I have previously played with," he said.
